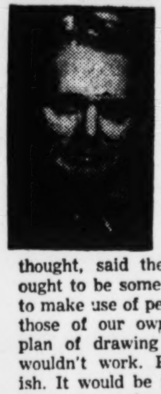
How Many Are Hungry?



A Washington columnist wrote that Senator Walter F. George would introduce a bill to allow persons drawing old-age pensions to draw up to $10 per month of surplus crops.

I asked Senator George. He said the columnist must have him mixed up with someone else. He thought, said the senator, there ought to be some method devised to make use of perishables to feed those of our own people. But a plan of drawing $10 per month wouldn't work. Perishables perish. It would be necessary to get them everywhere into grocery stores or in centrally-located depots. Since many pensioners are in rural areas they couldn't reach the depots. But, some method of getting certain perishables, notably butter and cheese, now stored by the millions of pounds, onto the tables of the nation, will be worked out with the Democrats taking the lead.

Hunger

America's preoccupation with too much food serves to remind us of an ugly and uncomfortable fact . . . from 60 to 70 per cent of the world's population live in an almost continual state of hunger and ill-health, brought on by malnutrition. And, worse, many Americans know hunger and even more live on inadequate diets, harmful to health.

Not only do huge government warehouses bulge with millions of pounds of butter, milk-solids, cheese, cooking oils, wheat, and corn, but we learned how, during and after the war, to increase agricultural production by about 40 per cent.

But, one reason why the world stirs with armed controversy and fear, is that the masses of Asia and the Orient are no longer content to remain hungry and colonialized. They are unduly sensitive. They exaggerate nationalism. They carry to extreme their passions and fears. So it is with all new nationalism — so it was with us in the 19th and early 20th centuries.

It becomes important to know that Asia and Africa, which together account for 60 per cent of all the people in the world, represent just 30 per cent of the world's food production. Countries of European stock (which of course include the Soviet Union), with much less of the world's population, account for 70 per cent of all agricultural output.

This slowly will change.

There isn't a single area in the Orient, Africa or Asia where the Communists are not backing land reform policies — and winning converts because the free governments are not able, or willing, simply to take land from its owners and divide it up among the landless. From the small beginnings made, and from the technical knowledge spread by the Point Four programs, by the Ford Foundation projects, and by those few governments which have brought in experts, food production is on the rise.

Remedy

Until all these governments develop the will to beat the Communists to land reform and until they can develop their areas with intelligent land uses and fertilizers, the only remedy is for those nations with food surpluses to be generous.

Even so, there will be countries which have fine agricultural systems, such as Great Britain, Germany, France, and the really amazing Scandinavians, which will find it necessary to import food.

They have been able to import food all through history because they were able to exchange manufactured goods and their own surpluses, for the necessary food imports. But, now, Russia controls the middle European nations such as Romania, Hungary and Czechoslovakia which produced export wheat. And the Communists may win control of Southeastern Asia's "rice bowl" in Indochina.

Meanwhile, the world's population increases — perhaps at a faster rate than food production. A mere fifty years from now the present food production, with all its surplus, will not feed the world. We will have to produce much more.

Change — always change — we swim in it always—yet there are many who refuse to admit the process of change.

Secret Atom Papers Reported Missing; Investigation Asked

WASHINGTON, March 12 (UP)—Rep. Thomas M. Pelly (R-Wash.) said today he has asked the Senate-House Atomic Committee to investigate reports that "substantial quantities" of secret papers are missing from the files of the Hanford, Wash., atomic energy plant.

Pelly said he discussed the "rumors" of the missing papers with officials of the Atomic Energy Commission. He said one of the officials "admitted a great many papers were missing from the Hanford files and could not be located."

Pelly made the assertions in a letter to Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY), chairman of the congressional Atomic Committee. Pelly said the committee has promised to send an investigator to Hanford.

Pelly said he could not tell "whether this situation exists because of possible subversive activity or whether it is a matter of poor housekeeping and lax administrative practice."

He also said he does not know what papers are allegedly missing, but assumes they are "top secret."

He said he heard "rumors" of the missing papers last year but thought at first it was merely "loose talk."

He said he communicated with Chairman Lewis W. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission and discussed the case by telephone and in person with other AEC officials.

Pelly said he wrote Strauss Feb. 25 about the matter and that the next day a representative of the AEC came to his office and confirmed that the papers were missing.

Puerto Rican Grabbed in Threat to Ike

NEW YORK, March 12 (UP)—Police swooped down and arrested a Puerto Rican Nationalist Party member tonight as he was telephoning a threat against the life of President Eisenhower to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The man gave his name as Jose Rivera Colon, and said he was a member of the New York branch of the Nationalist Party. Members recently wounded five congressmen in a fanatical demonstration in the House of Representatives.

FBI agents said Colon telephoned bureau headquarters here and threatened the President's life. The FBI said Colon declared that he and a group of Nationalists were "going to Washington."

The FBI persuaded Colon to give his name and the location of the telephone from which he was calling. He did, and an agent immediately relayed the information to the Secret Service and city police.

Asks Beer License To Bar Soda Rowdies

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 12 (AP)—The operator of an ice cream bar sought a beer license for his place today to keep it from being so rowdy.

Robert Leon French said teen-agers are "busting up the place." A beer license would keep them out because they are minors.

By ALVIN SPIVAK

WASHINGTON, March 12 (INS). Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy and his chief counsel, Roy M. Cohn, hurled "blackmail" charges at the Army today and Secretary Stevens and his legal aide, John G. Adams, struck back with cries of "false, fantastic, utterly untrue."

The furious exchange detonated by a Pentagon report accusing Cohn of threats to "wreck the Army" unless a drafted ex-McCarthy aide got special favors brought demands from Republican and Democratic senators for an immediate showdown under oath.

WHO IS LYING?

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) demanded that the Senate Armed Services Committee "find out who is lying."

McCarthy's Republican colleagues on the investigation subcommittee which the Wisconsin senator heads made similar demands for a full investigation before their group.

McCarthy and Cohn quoted from secret memoranda in their files in an attempt to show that Stevens and Adams resorted to what the senator and his top lieutenant called "blackmail" in an attempt to block McCarthy's probe of Reds in uniform.

STEVENS CHARGED

The counterblast, in which McCarthy read from a memorandum saying Stevens urged the senator to call off his Army probe and "go after" the Navy, Air Force and the Defense department, instead," brought a series of fast-breaking developments. They included:

1. Stevens, in a statement, asserted McCarthy's charge that he sought to turn the Red probe to the other services was "fantastic."

2. McCarthy, just before leaving by airplane for Wisconsin, asserted he had never made the

Stockholder Humphrey Hit for Tax Cut Plea

By JOHN D. MORRIS
New York Times News Service, Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, March 12—Democrats will soon drop what a spokesman called a "bombshell" in the battle over tax legislation. The target will be Treasury Secretary Humphrey, who holds stock in various companies.

Specifically, they will question the propriety—from moral and ethical but not legal standpoints—of Humphrey pressing for special tax reductions on dividend income without disposing of his own stocks.

Rep. Herman P. Eberharter (D-Pa), said today he plans to open the attack Monday in a speech on the floor of the House.

CLEARED BY LEADERS

The stratagem, reliable informants said, has been cleared with Sam Rayburn of Texas, House minority leader, and John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, assistant leader. The Democratic National Committee is also cooperating, according to these sources.

The Eberharter speech is part of a strong Democratic drive to eliminate from the administration's omnibus tax revision bill a provision that would give stockholders an estimated $240 million of tax relief the first year and about $850 million annually when it became fully operative in 1956.

When the measure comes up for a vote in the House, probably next Thursday, the Democrats will seek to substitute a provision increasing by $100 the personal income tax exemptions of $600 each for taxpayers and their dependents.

Meanwhile, a companion bill calling for reductions in excise taxes on 20-odd items and extension of present rates on several others went before the Senate Finance Committee, which set a timetable of hearings aimed at bringing it to the floor a week from next Monday.

Chairman Eugene D. Millikin (R-Colo) predicted Senate passage, with few, if any, changes. The bill was passed by the House Wednesday.

Eberharter said that one question he expected to raise in his speech Monday was whether Humphrey had complied with a request by Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla) for a list of his stockholdings.

WAS LIST FILED?

When Humphrey's nomination was before the Finance Committee in January, 1953, Kerr asked him to file such a list with the committee and he agreed to do so. Eberharter said the list had not been filed "as far as I know."

Ex-Slave, 107, Is Jailed as Lottery Suspect, Takes Along Rubbin' Oil

By KEELER McCARTNEY

A 107-year-old Negro man who said he chews herbs to keep in health Friday was lodged in city jail for suspicion of violating lottery laws.

Detectives W. D. Browning and J. M. Pack said they found the cotton-haired former slave, Will Muse, sitting on the front porch of his home at 641 Alpine Pl., SW, vigorously chewing "yellow root."

Muse also had a handful of lottery tickets, detectives said.

"We saw him writing something and stopped to see what it was," Browning said. "We saw what he was doing and asked him about it, but he didn't want to talk about the lottery."

Informed that he would have to go to jail, Muse protested:

"Wait'll I get my rubbin' oil. I got to have it to keep my j'ints going."

Detectives said Muse got the unlabeled bottle and walked briskly to the patrol car.

Muse told detectives he was born Oct. 14, 1846, on "Mr. Spence's place" near Carrollton. He said he could hear the cannon booming during the siege of Atlanta, and added:

"They got pretty close to us up in Carrollton, too."

After the war, Muse said, Mr. Spence gave his mother a mule named "Beck" and the use of 50 acres of land. He said he farmed the land for a while and then came to Atlanta and for many years worked at a landscaping concern.

Since the death of his wife 12 years ago, he has made his home with a niece, who is 60.

"Ain't had much use for women since my wife died," he confided to detectives. "Just stay around the house mostly and chew my 'yellow root' and rub wid the oil."

Pack and Browning said they would recommend a city fine when charges against Muse are brought in Municipal Court at 7:30 a.m. Saturday. Lottery cases generally are bound over for trial in Fulton Criminal Court.

Czech MIG Attacks 2 U.S. Planes

MUNICH, Germany, March 12 (UP)—Two U. S. military planes flying near the Czechoslovak border were attacked today by a Soviet-made MIG jet, Bavarian police reported.

The State Department in Washington hours later, confirmed the German report that there had been an attack on two U. S. military aircraft.

The State Department said it was unable to give details, but said both planes landed safely after the incident though the tail of one was shot up.

There were indications that U.S. Navy carrier planes from the Mediterranean fleet were those involved.

A U. S. 6th Fleet spokesman in London said the Navy had planes from the Mediterranean - based carriers in the area today, but "whether they were Navy planes which were attacked we do not know yet."

The U. S. Air Force headquarters at Wiesbaden and the U. S. Army headquarters at Heidelberg said they were unable to confirm any attack on American planes.

Bavarian border police said eyewitnesses saw the attack at 7,500 feet in hazy weather and afterwards found empty aircraft gun shells on the ground near Waldmuenchen.

The eyewitnesses were quoted as reporting:

Three planes were seen in the border area, and one of them, a Soviet-made MIG jet fighter, opened fire on the other two.

After several passes, it turned back east and disappeared in the direction of Czechoslovakia. The other two planes continued south.

Rain Expected To Break 2-Day High Readings

Clouds and scattered thundershowers will blow into town Saturday after the hottest March 12 since 1917, the Weather Bureau said.

Temperatures will rise to 76 during the afternoon after a low of 62. Windy and cooler is the forecast for Sunday with extreme temperature readings of 45 and 58.

Yesterday's low was 61, the high 82, three degrees more than the previous March 12 record of 79 in 1917.

Adm. McIntire In Congress Race

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 12 (AP)—The personal physician to the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, retired Navy Vice Adm. Ross T. McIntire, today announced his candidacy for a seat in Congress.

McIntire, whose home is in the San Diego Bay community of Coronado, said he would seek the Democratic nomination for the California 30th House District, now represented by Rep. Bob Wilson, a Republican.

Both Sides See Victory On State GOP Leader

By ALBERT RILEY

Spokesmen for the two rival groups of Georgia Republicans seeking control of the party organization in this state predicted victory Friday night on the eve of a struggle between William B. Shartzer of Atlanta and Strozier Harris of Moultrie for the chairmanship of the Republican State Central Committee.

The 120-member committee will meet Saturday at 1 p.m. in the Fulton County courthouse to accept the resignation of Elbert P. Tuttle and name a new chairman to succeed him. And there still appeared to be some doubt Friday night as to whether the meeting will be closed or open to the press and public.

Barnaby Hill, secretary of the committee, who is backing Harris, confidently forecast a victory for the Moultrie man. Although Hill said he did not expect Harris to win by a large majority, he also predicted the Moultrian would get about 83 of the 120 votes.

SIZE UP VOTE

Just as confidently, Jim Hollingsworth, editor of The Georgia Republican, predicted Shartzer would win by "a substantial amount over a majority."

Robert R. Snodgrass, Fifth District GOP chairman, who is backing Shartzer, predicted the Atlantan would get between 75 and 80 votes.

Shartzer, Atlanta real estate man, is also backed by Tuttle, the Fifth District organization headed by Gene Craig, Robert T. Jones, James L. (Jim) Sundy, influential Savannah GOP leader, and others. Sundy was in a caucus with Hollingsworth and Shartzer late Friday.

FULTON VERSUS STATE

Hill would not name any state GOP leaders whose support he claims for Harris, but Roscoe Tucker, GOP national commit-

Cold War Hit By Malenkov In Parley Bid

MOSCOW, March 12 (UP)—Soviet Premier Malenkov said today that Russia is opposed to the cold war and called for international conferences to relax world tension and seek peaceful solutions of world problems.

Malenkov said the Soviet government takes a "strong stand" against the policy of cold war because it is preparing a "new world slaughter" which would mean the "destruction of world civilization."

"It is not true that mankind has to face only the choice of either a fresh world slaughter or a so-called cold war," the Soviet leader told an election meeting here.

Malenkov urged international conferences "of various countries enjoying equal rights."

Such a conference, he said, would work "in the interests of relaxing international tensions and would seek to find a peaceful way for solution of controversial problems."

Malenkov said Russia stands for "peaceful economic competition" with the United States

He declared the Soviet government believes that "any controversial question of today, difficult as it may be, can be solved by peaceful means."

WASHINGTON, March 12. (INS)—Sen. George S. Smathers (D-Fla) introduced legislation today to exempt residents of Hawaii and Alaska from paying income taxes.

Will Face Issues In Air Reply to Adlai, Nixon Says

WASHINGTON, March 12 (UP)—Vice President Nixon said today he won't dodge "the issues" when he goes on radio and TV tomorrow night to answer Adlai Stevenson's charge that the Republican party is "half Eisenhower and half McCarthy."

Nixon, designated by the GOP National Committee to make the official reply to Stevenson's blast at Miami Beach last Saturday night, speaks from 10:30 to 11 p.m. EST over facilities provided by NBC and CBS.

Nixon's speech will be broadcast over WSB and WAGA radio.

Nixon conferred with President Eisenhower for 45 minutes today, just before the President left for a weekend in the Maryland mountains.

Teachers Want Ruling On Security Quiz File

Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook will be asked to rule whether or not security questionnaires signed by public school teachers must be sent to the State Special Services Agency in Atlanta.

State School Supt. M. D. Collins said Friday he will ask Cook for the opinion in answer to questions being raised by county school superintendents.

"I've gotten letters from six or seven superintendents," Collins said, "who want to know if the questionnaires have to be sent to Atlanta, since school teachers are not state employes."

The security questionnaires must be filled out by everyone paid in whole or in part by state funds under terms of the amended anti-subversives act passed by the November-December legislature.

The act authorizes the governor by executive order to make such "orders, rules and regulations" as are necessary to effectuate the act.

Accordingly, Gov. Talmadge in a recent executive order set up the Special Services Agency and directed that the original copies of the questionnaires be sent to it.

The governor's order requires the questionnaires to be signed by April 1.

Brazil Backs U.S. In Anti-Red Fight

Confident of Major Victory, Dulles To Leave for Home

By BEN F. MEYER

CARACAS, Venezuela, March 12 (AP)—Brazil today threw its unconditional support behind the United States plan to fight communism in the Americas.

U.S. Secretary of State Dulles, apparently confident that a major diplomatic victory was assured at the 10th Inter-American conference, announced he would leave for home "sometime tomorrow."

But one of the toughest problems still facing the United States remained unsolved—how to satisfy Latin America's insistent demands for economic help. That one seemed to be getting bigger by the minute.

VOTE SATURDAY

The conference devoted its major efforts today to finishing up work on the anti-Communist measure so a vote can be taken on Saturday.

Foreign Minister Vicente Rao of Brazil urged delegates to adopt without qualifying amendments the Dulles proposal for uniting the Americas in opposition to communism.

Mexico, among others, sought amendments on the basis that the original proposal endangers the principle of nonintervention in the internal affairs of a country.

Rao said that although the American proposal calls for consultation when international communism dominates or controls a country in the Western Hemisphere, it does not follow that sanctions would be taken against the country.

REQUIRES MAJORITY

Rao said it would take a majority vote of the American republics to call a consultation. Any action taken at such a meeting would require a two-thirds vote. He said consultation, therefore, "does not mean sanctions or even a study of sanctions. It means only an exchange of opinion which might result in the eventual application of sanctions."

Henry Holland, 41, a Texan, who took his oath here as assistant secretary of state for Latin-American affairs, will become boss of the U.S. delegation when Dulles leaves.

One of Holland's main tasks will be to satisfy the demands for economic help voiced by Latin-American nations.

Barkley Bid For Senate Is Urged

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 12 (AP) — Kentucky Democrats today urged former Vice President Alben W. Barkley, who has spent 48 of his 76 years in public office, to offer for six years more.

They launched a movement to draft him for nomination for the U. S. Senate.

The "Veep," who sat as senator for 22 years, replied he would think it over. He hopes to give his answer within two weeks.

"Kentucky and the nation need Alben Barkley in the U. S. Senate," said Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby in announcing the draft movement.

He added that a group of the party's leaders "is prepared to insist" that Barkley run.

Wetherby and other Democratic leaders have their party's interest in mind, too. They want a strong opponent for U. S. Sen. John Sherman Cooper, Republican, in the Nov. 2 election.

Barkley, who bid unsuccessfully for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1952, said he deeply appreciated "the compliment paid me" in the proposed draft. He added:

"It puts me very naturally under a deep obligation."

But Barkley said he hadn't "made up his mind" on whether to run—a question repeatedly asked him in recent months.

"I will try to do so within the next two weeks and make some sort of an announcement at my home in Paducah."

Dutch To Send Delegation to Geneva Parley

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, March 12 (AP)—The Dutch foreign ministry announced today the Netherlands will send a delegation to Geneva for the Korea-Indochina conference opening April 26.

This makes 12 of the 16 U.N. allies on the Korean War officially on record as intending to sit in on the parley with Soviet Russia, Communist China and, presumably, both North and South Korea.

Education Fund Slash Perils Exchange Service

By C. P. TRUSSELL

New York Times News Service, Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, March 12—A $6 million economy cut in an appropriation made by the House last week was viewed widely today as threatening to wreck the whole international educational exchange service of the government's overseas information and good will program.

This service had asked for $15 million for the fiscal year starting July 1. This was about the sum it got for operations during the current fiscal year in 70 free-world countries. The House voted for $9 million on recommendations of its Appropriations Committee.

The effects of the slash, if sustained by the Senate, were described in official quarters to include these:

1. Would eliminate educational exchanges completely in 46 countries. The countries would include Egypt, Turkey, Korea, Iran, Formosa, Indonesia, Spain and all of the South American republics.

2. Would eliminate the so-called leader program in all of the 70 countries. Involved in this program are leaders in their own countries of thought and attitude who, after studies in the United States, return to present clear conclusions regarding America to their homelands.

3. Would permit the financing of exchange programs with foreign currency in only 21 countries.

4. Would eliminate the teacher-exchange program with all other countries. This program is aimed particularly at reaching the youth of the countries of the free world.

Jobless Rise In February Hit 584,000

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP) — The Census Bureau reported today the nation's unemployment rose 584,000 in February to a total of 3,671,000.

This was on the basis of a new sampling method adopted by the bureau.

Unemployment as reflected by an old sampling method, which Secretary of Commerce Weeks said is being discontinued, rose over one million in February to a total of 3,385,000.

The 3,671,000 unemployed for February reflected in the new official sample compared with 1,788 000 in February last year, which was the lowest since World War II, and 4,684,000 in February, 1950, the highest since the war.

The new figures represented an unemployment increase of well over two million in the three months from last November to this February.

The February figures showed an increase of nearly one million in the labor force from January. This figure for January was 62,840,000, compared with 63,725,000 in February.

KANSAS HIGHWAY PATROLMEN STOP TRAFFIC TO WARN OF DANGER
Visibility Was Zero in State's Worst Duster Since the 30s

By CALVIN B. MANON

KANSAS CITY, March 12 (AP)—A late winter storm was carried northeastward from the Rocky Mountains by winds of gale force today bringing a blizzard to the mid-continent.

Winds of 50 to 60 miles an hour were general throughout this area whipping up one of the worst dust storms in 20 years. Visibility was zero in many places, and less than a mile in most areas.

HARDEST HIT

Colorado and the western edge of Nebraska seemed to be the hardest hit. Snow drifted up to 24 inches deep in eastern Colorado. Six to eight inches of wet, blowing snow disrupted highway travel in Nebraska and hampered communications there.

In a special afternoon bulletin the Kansas City Weather Bureau reported the center of the storm was in central Kansas. Snow, falling temperatures and high winds were the fare to the west of the storm center, while to the east rapidly rising temperatures, wind and the worst dust storm since the 1930s were reported.

KANSAS CITY

At Kansas City the temperature jumped from 59 to 70 degrees in less than 30 minutes. In the next hour it dropped back to 64 degrees. At the same time the humidity dropped from 87 to 10 per cent and wind gusts jumped to 60 miles an hour. Visibility in the city was cut to three blocks.

Western Kansas cities in the Goodland and Dodge City areas had visibility cut to zero by blinding snow, mixed with dust. The mixture of dust and snow brought a brown snow storm to Garden City.

The accumulated snow was expected to be light in Kansas with the heavier fall to the west and north of that state.

OKLAHOMA DUST

High winds were blowing dust over most of Oklahoma with the worst conditions in the dry west where visibility at Hollis and Enid was reduced to less than three blocks. The only appreciable snow was an inch and half at Boise City in the Panhandle.

As the storm moved to the northeast it brought rain and sleet driven by a 35 mile an hour wind to Iowa tonight accompanied by 60-mile an hour winds.

New Mexico got the first wallop from the gale last night with winds of 90 miles an hour at Carlsbad, and gusts of 100 miles an hour east of Albuquerque.

In its northeastward path the storm then dumped heavy snowfall on eastern Colorado blocking highways with drifts up to two feet and howled into Wyoming blocking all highways in the Cheyenne area. More than 100 eastbound bus passengers were stranded in Cheyenne.

SecurityChief In Hungary Is Given Life

LONDON, March 12 (INS)—The Hungarian News Agency reported tonight that Gabor Peter, Hungary's state security chief, has been sentenced to life imprisonment for "crimes against the state and people."

The news agency said that former Justice Minister Gyula Decsi was sentenced to nine years' imprisonment and Istvan Timar, former head of a ministerial department, received a 11 years' sentence on similar charges. Other defendants got varying sentences.

Peter and his "accomplices," it was said, had been sentenced by the supreme military court of Communist Hungary.

(Agence France Presse quoted the news agency as saying that Peter and the other defendants were guilty of grave offenses against the state through "abuse of power.")

O'Daniel Given Helm Of Indochina Mission

By CHARLES W. CORDDRY

WASHINGTON, March 12 (UP)—Lt. Gen. John W. (Mike) O'Daniel, a top Army training officer, soon will take command of the U. S. military mission in Indochina, Adm. Arthur W. Radford announced today.

Associated Press Wirephoto
TO INDOCHINA
Gen. O'Daniel

The announcement came amid reports that Secretary of State Dulles will make a new attempt to get French permission for U.S. officers to train native troops fighting the Communists in Indochina.

Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said O'Daniel—now U.S. Army Pacific commander—is "an expert in training."

He denied, however, that there is any present plan to change the role of the U. S. military mission. Radford said any U.S. training of native troops would depend on the French.

The French have been cold to any suggestion that Americans supervise the training of the native troops. They contend the training can be carried out better by French officers who know the natives and their language.

Radford emphasized to reporters that the French have "complete charge" of the training program. O'Daniel could, however, give French officers the benefit of U.S. experience in World War II jungle fighting and in the Korean War.

Radford said O'Daniel will drop back in rank to major two-star general before taking his new assignment.

That is the highest rank assigned to officers controlling military assistance groups. It also was believed the action was taken so O'Daniel would not outrank French field officers in Indochina.

He will replace Maj. Gen. Thomas J. H. Trapnell, who has been in Indochina since Aug. 1, 1952.

The stocky, aggressive O'Daniel, a veteran of both world wars and the Korean fighting, was scheduled for retirement but was held on duty by the Army. He is 60.

The U.S. mission to Indochina now supervises use of American equipment supplied to French and native troops.

French Rail Link Cut in 5 Spots by Reds

HANOI, Indochina, March 12 (AP)—Communist-led Vietminh troops today cut in five places the main railway line linking this war capital of northern Indochina with Haiphong, the seaport 64 miles to the east.

A French army headquarters spokesman said the Vietminh, besides blowing up stretches of the railway with electrically detonated mines, attacked a string of Vietnamese-manned watchtowers and small posts along the railway and parallel highway. The French admitted some of these posts had fallen.

The coordinated attack occurred as the Vietminh came out of the hills in force around long-besieged Dien Bien Phu, 180 miles west of Hanoi, and brought its airlift terminal under cannon fire.

A release of some such fury had been expected for several days in anticipation that Moscow-tutored Ho Chi Minh would endeavor to make a show of strength before the Geneva conference on Korea and Indochina opens April 26.

The French rushed tanks and armored cars to the area, clashing with Vietminh regional soldiers who apparently had come from the Kesa and Hung Yen sectors, 25 to 30 miles southeast of Hanoi.

May Draft Call For 18,000 Is Issued by Army

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—The Army today issued a draft call for 18,000 men in May.

The May quota is the same as those announced for the previous three months.

The new call brings to 1,661,430 the number of men drafted or earmarked for induction since the resumption of selective service in September, 1950.

The Defense Department recently estimated that draft calls would have to rise, beginning about July, and that the higher quotas would be necessary for at least six months thereafter.

European Pact Voted By Belgium

Army Plan Hits Halfway Mark

BRUSSELS, Belgium, March 12 (AP)—The Belgian Senate approved the six-nation European army today and advanced the European defense Community to its halfway mark.

The Netherlands and West Germany previously ratified the EDC treaty. France, Italy and Luxembourg still have to act.

France's final position on the army, which is intended to include half a million German soldiers, is one of the biggest question marks now.

Italy's new Premier Mario Scelba has promised to fight for ratification, but internal troubles, including a boiling scandal over the death of a society party girl, threatened Scelba's schedule in the Italian Parliament.

NETHERLANDS CLEAR

Actually only the Netherlands has completed all the technical treaty ratification procedure.

West Germany's President Heuss has held up signature of the German ratification papers pending settlement of a constitutional dispute in West Germany over rearmament.

Belgium's King Baudouin has to sign the treaty and the Belgian official journal has to publish it before the Belgian ratification process is completed.

The Belgian Senate vote was 125-40, with 2 abstentions, and 8 members absent. The House approved the EDC treaty last November 148-49, with 3 abstentions.

GERMAN PRAISE

The West German government tonight hailed the Belgian ratification with praise for the "powerful majority" given the treaty. In Bonn, a West German Parliament committee worked on legislation to call up the 500,000 German soldiers promised for the army.

The committee must decide in the next three weeks whether the German commander in chief will be the President or the Chancellor; who will be on a commission to name senior officers above the rank of colonel; how to recruit 150,000 volunteers to form the core of the group of officers and enlisted men who will train the full force.

In answer to French expressions of alarm at what was called German haste, the Germans have said they were only taking steps necessary to carry out their obligations under the new treaty.

Pope Observes 15th Anniversary

VATICAN CITY, March 12 (UP)—Pope Pius XII, still weak from a 45-day illness resulting from a stomach ailment, quietly celebrated the 15th anniversary of his coronation today by working on church papers in his study.

Babs, Rubi Separation Seen As She Moves in With Aunt

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 12 (UP)—Barbara Hutton Rubirosa, the Woolworth heiress, and her diplomat playboy fourth husband, Porfirio Rubirosa, have separated, usually reliable society sources reported here today.

Barbara last night left the home she shared here with the Dominican minister to France, it was said. She moved in with her aunt, Mrs. James P. Donahue, also a Woolworth heiress, at the exclusive Everglades Club.

Rubirosa early today drove to Lantana, a small community south of Palm Beach, and took off in his private plane for an unknown destination. He filed no flight plan with the Civil Aeronautics Authority and no one here knew his plans.

The couple married Dec. 30 and have honeymooned here. Rubirosa had been married twice previously.

Calls to the Rubirosa home brought the response that Barbara was not available. Mrs. Donahue answered her telephone at the Everglades Club but declined to discuss her niece's domestic affairs.

Rubirosa has been seen in night spots and at polo and other sports events, but has not escorted other women, it was said.

McCarthy's Blackmail Charges Fantastic, False, Stevens Says

charge, which was spelled out in the memorandum he had read to newsmen earlier.

3. Adams issued a statement matching Stevens,' calling the McCarthy - Cohn "blackmail" charges "fantastic and false" and backing up the report accusing Cohn of exerting pressure in behalf of Pvt. G. David Schine, former committee consultant.

DEMANDS SUBPOENA

4. Kefauver demanded that both Cohn and Adams be subpoenaed by the Senate Armed Services Committee and compelled to tell their conflicting stories under oath.

5. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill), a member of McCarthy's subcommittee, accused the Wisconsin senator of violating an agreement with his GOP colleagues in making public secret memoranda on conversations with Stevens, Adams and other Army officials.

6. Material made public by Cohn included an assertion by the 26-year-old McCarthy committee counsel that Adams had urged Cohn to obtain for him a $25,000-a-year partnership in a New York law firm—a charge Adams labeled false.

"TWISTED, DISTORTED"

7. McCarthy called the 34-page Pentagon report on Cohn's alleged efforts in behalf of Schine a "twisted, distorted and untrue" version of incidents involving Cohn and Schine, heir to a hotel and theater fortune.

8. Cohn denied he had ever threatened to "wreck the Army," or, as the Pentagon report charged, to force Stevens' ouster. He said he was a victim of deliberate "smear" and "blackmail" attempts by the Army.

9. McCarthy emphatically denied any intention of firing Cohn or of agreeing to his dismissal, declaring that "Roy will be around Capitol Hill slugging Communists for a long time, I hope."

WANT SHOWDOWN

10. Sens. Dirksen, Karl E. Mundt (R-SD) and Charles E. Potter (R-Mich), McCarthy's GOP colleagues on the Senate Investigating Committee, urged an immediate showdown on the Cohn-Schine case before that group.

Dirksen said: "We Republicans have responsibility for the staff of the subcommittee. I hean to meet it and I mean to meet it now. There will be no fooling about it. This matter has gone far enough."

McCarthy said he would be glad to convene the subcommittee to act on the Army charges. He said he would return from Wisconsin late Sunday or early Monday.

Dirksen made no attempt to conceal his chagrin at what he called McCarthy's disregard of a promise made at a secret meet of subcommittee Republicans Thursday.

RELEASED SECRETS

He declared that McCarthy and Cohn released the secret memoranda "without informing me or anyone else that this information was to be disclosed."

Mundt said: "In my opinion, Roy Cohn made a serious mistake if as an employe of our committee he urged the Army to accord his friend, Dave Schine, treatment different from that accorded any other soldier."

But he added that Cohn, "like any other citizen who has been accused, is entitled to present his side of the story to the committee."

Stevens, who was accused last month of "capitulating" to McCarthy in a case involving the senator's alleged abuse of Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker, said in his statement denying any attempt to shunt McCarthy's Red hunt to sister services of the Army:

"It would never enter my mind to do other than uphold the hand of the Army, the Navy, the Air Force and the Defense department."

CLAIMS ALL FACTS

Adams said all statements against Cohn in the Pentagon's chronological report of the young lawyer's alleged intervention, threats, abuse and other activities were factual.

In denying the McCarthy-Cohn "blackmail" charge, Adams said: "If there had been any basis for such a charge, it is inconceivable that no complaints were ever made to the Secretary of the Army, and none ever was."

At the airport, after being informed of Stevens' and Adams' statements, McCarthy said:

"I don't think I'll have any further statements back and forth. We have the memos. They speak pretty much for themselves. Beyond that, there is nothing to be gained by saying any more.

FILES ARE TRUE

"Adams' statement is there. The stuff from my files is there. Let the people examine both of them and decide what the facts are."

McCarthy conceded he had violated the agreement mentioned by Dirksen, but said it was "just an oversight."

He added: "There certainly shouldn't be any disagreement between Dirksen and myself, but when they (the Army) made public the type of accusations they did, I have no choice but to make public our material."

Senate GOP leader William F. Knowland, Calif., supported demands of McCarthy's investigating committee colleagues for a prompt showdown before that group.

Adams said the report on Cohn never was intended as a "threat" to McCarthy and that no attempt had been made to block the Wisconsin senator's probe of communism.

SENATORS' REQUEST

The Army counsel added that the report was made available at the request of senators, and that it "speaks for itself."

Stevens said: "I have full faith and confidence in John G. Adams, who had a major part in the events of the past few months."

The secretary was referring to the Army's frequent brushes with McCarthy during the senator's attempt to expose what he once called—but later denied having aimed at the Army specifically—"Communist coddling" in the armed services.

Pvt. Schine, who was an unpaid "chief consultant" to the McCarthy committee before he was drafted after failing to win a direct commission, had no part of the excitement rocking Washington today.

THREAT CLAIMED

McCarthy said Adams had been using the Cohn-Schine report as a threat instrument for "months." He said Adams "a number of months ago" threatened to make the report public unless McCarthy called off his Reds-in-the-Army probe.

The senator said: "I told him we would not be blackmailed."

Cohn, at McCarthy's side, declared: "It's an unprecedented thing. It (the report) was obviously leaked out to do a smear job on me because (the Army) failed in blackmail attempts to stop us and particularly me from investigating the Army."

The White House said President Eisenhower's first knowledge of the Pentagon report on Cohn and Schine was gleaned from this morning's newspapers. There was no immediate comment from the chief executive.

GOP SEN. POTTER CALLS FOR HEARING

Committee Member Asks Probe of Cohn

Talmadge Backs McCarthy In His Hunt for Communists

Governor Talmadge Friday endorsed Sen. Joseph McCarthy's Communist hunting.

"Whether or not we agree with his methods and procedures, it must be admitted that they are the only ones being applied," said Talmadge in declaring that the menace of subversion must be combatted.

"In the vacuum left by inactivity, the controversial McCarthy has stood almost alone in a constant, active fight against the menace," the governor said.

"Those responsible for the vacuum have attempted to divert attention from it through personal attacks on Sen. McCarthy," he continued. "As a result we have been carried through a series of embarrassing experiences in which our leaders have indulged in petty, childish bickering, which have served only to dishearten those of us who expect tempered, but firm, positive, concrete action from our chosen leaders."

The governor said President Eisenhower, his cabinet and Congress should abandon their attacks on one another and unite to identify and eradicate the common enemy.

Schine Bars Press Again At Gordon

CAMP GORDON, March 12 (AP)—Pvt. G. David Schine refused tonight for a second time to meet reporters to discuss his role in the fight between Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy and the Army.

The former "consultant" to McCarthy's Senate investigating subcommittee was on bivouac in a training exercise at an undisclosed spot about 12 miles from here.

Army officials earlier had refused to allow reporters to interview Schine, but a press conference had been tentatively set for 2 p.m. tomorrow.

ARMY PRIVATE

However, Capt. Edgar M. Jones, public information officer for the Provost Marshall General's center here where Schine is undergoing training, said Schine again refused to hold a press conference.

"I am a private in the U.S. Army," Jones quoted Schine, "and I am taking basic training as a military policeman and I don't want to engage in a press conference or any other outside activity until my training is completed."

(This was essentially what Schine had told an Atlanta Constitution reporter by telephone on the night of March 4.)

Jones said that because "this is a personal affair, we have to afford him the dignity of deciding whether he wants to meet with the press. We are not going to order him to meet the press unless he wants to."

REGULAR STATUS

Brig. Gen. L. W. Truman, Third Army Chief of Staff, with headquarters at Ft. McPherson, denied that Schine has enjoyed any special status while at Camp Gordon.

"Private Schine has had no preferential treatment as long as he has been in the Third Army area," he said. "He is treated just like John Jones."

Schine has been based with the First Military Police Training Regiment of the Provost Marshal Genment here for almost six weeks.

Democrats Point To His Stocks

Committee aides said they had not received the document.

The secretary had no comment except to say through a spokesman that the list of stockholdings had been given to Sen. Millikin on Feb. 2, 1953.

An aide pointed out, however, that the question of his disposing of his stocks had been thoroughly discussed at the confirmation hearings before the committee on Jan. 19, 1953.

CONSIDERED PROPER

The printed transcript showed that committee members felt it was perfectly proper for the secretary to keep his stocks. He had already resigned as board chairman of the M. A. Hanna Co. and severed all connections with this and several other companies in which he held office.

"My securities, which I expect to retain," he told the committee, "consist now, and have always consisted almost entirely of common stocks of four companies with whose managements I was associated."

He named the concerns as M. A. Hanna Co., Hanna Coal & Ore Corp., National Steel Corp. and Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co. His family also owns stocks, he said, but he did not name them.

There was no indication of the value of his holdings, but he drew $300,000 a year in salary and bonuses from M. A. Hanna Co.

Manion Calls McCarthy A Godsend

CHICAGO, March 12 (AP)—Clarence E. Manion, who was forced to resign his government post under White House pressure last month, today described Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) as "a godsend to the country."

Manion, former dean of Notre Dame University Law School, was ousted Feb. 17 as chairman of the commission on intergovernmental relations to which President Eisenhower had appointed him. He blamed the action on his support of the Bricker Amendment.

Manion, a Democrat, said at a news conference today when asked to comment on McCarthy:

"It is just as important to get the Communists out of government as it is to get them out of Indochina, Korea or Western Europe. McCarthy has done and is doing a good job."

State GOP To Select Chief At Atlanta Confab Today

teeman, is generally believed to be backing Harris.

"It's a question of Fulton County against the rest of the state," Hill declared.

But Hollingsworth said many prominent GOP leaders over the state are supporting Shartzer. Among them he named Mrs. Rochelle Prather of Columbus, state vice chairman; T. Baldwin Martin of Macon, state finance chairman; Louis O'Connell of Augusta, and J. M. Nichols of Blue Ridge, chairman of the Georgia Young Republican Clubs.

LAUDS QUALIFICATIONS

Meanwhile, the Fifth District GOP organization, in a letter signed by Craig, lauded Shartzer's qualifications for the chairmanship and sharply criticized Hill for saying Shartzer does not have the qualifications for state leadership.

The first order of business Saturday may be a test vote on whether to open the meeting to the press and public. Shartzer said that "I favor an open meeting and hope it is so voted. As far as I am personally concerned, I think there should be no closed meetings."

District Atty. Frank O. Evans removed his name Friday from consideration for appointment as U.S. Judge for the Middle District of Georgia. He said he did so on advice of physicians treating him for a fractured hip.

Evans once had been considered a certain successor to the late Judge A. B. Conger. He will continue, he said, as district attorney.

M'Carthy Memos Claim Army Tried Blackmail

WASHINGTON, March 2 (INS). Following, in chronological order, are excerpts of memoranda made public by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy in charging the Army with attempted "blackmail" to head off his investigation of Communists in the Army:

Nov. 6—McCarthy wrote that Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens had asked him to "hold up" his hearings on the Army and "go after the Navy, the Air Force and the Defense department, instead."

The memo also said: "We said first of all we had no evidence warranting an investigation of these other departments. (Army legal counsel John) Adams said not to worry about that, because there was plenty of dirt there, and they would furnish us the leads. Mr. Stevens thought this was the answer to his problem.

EVIDENCE OUTLINE

"Stevens asked us to outline what evidence would be produced at our scheduled public hearings on the Army Signal Corps, which we did.

"Stevens said that if we brought out everything, he would have to resign. He said he had been in office for 10 months, and would have to take responsibility . . ."

Nov. 17—A subcommittee memo reported a New York luncheon attended by McCarthy, Stevens, Army legal counsel Adams, subcommittee counsel Roy Cohn and subcommittee staff director Francis Carr at which they discussed Stevens' news conference statement that "there had been no espionage at Ft. Monmouth."

The memo added: "Mr. Stevens produced the correct transcript of the conference and said he had been badly misquoted in the press, and the press had absolutely distorted what he said and put in some plain untruths.

LOOK ELSEWHERE

"At this meeting, Stevens again said he wished we could get on to the Air Force and the Navy and the personnel employed directly by the defense establishment instead of continuing with Army hearings."

Dec. 9—McCarthy to Carr: " . . . I want to tell you . . . that I am getting fed up with the way the Army is trying to use (Pvt. G. David) Schine as a hostage to pressure us to stop our hearings on the Army. . . .

"Again today, John Adams came down here after the hearings and using clever phrases tried to find out, 'what's there in it for us' if he and Stevens did something for Schine.

"He refers to Schine as our hostage or the hostage whenever his name comes up.

"I made it clear that as far as I was concerned, I don't personally care what treatment they gave Schine, and that as far as I was concerned, he was in the Army.

FAIRNESS CITED

"I did say that I thought it wasn't fair to them to take it out on Schine, because we were investigating the Army, or to keep using it to try to stop our investigations. I told him the only contact we were authorized to have with him about Schine was in investigations committee business.

"My telling him this does no real good, as he constantly lumps together all his talk about Schine with suggestions that we stop holding hearings on the Army.

"I am convinced that they will keep right on trying to blackmail us as long as Schine is in the Army.

"Even though they said he deserved a commission, they didn't give it to him because of the left-wing press and they keep trying to dangle proposed small favors to him in front of us.

"Adams, by his attitude, makes it clear that the Army will do nothing to see that Schine gets into any kind of assignment to which he is qualified, unless we stop investigating the Army.

ARMY STAND

"When he brought up the 'what's there in it for us' business this morning, I told him that I saw no chance of stopping the hearings. I suggested that he talk with you.

"This hostage business is getting to be a real thorn in my side and I wish that they would either give Schine what he deserves or leave him in the rear ranks forever without bothering me about it."

Dec. 9—Cohn to McCarthy: "John Adams said today that following up the idea about investigating the Air Force he had gotten specific information for us about an Air Force base where there was a large number of homosexuals. He said he would trade us that information if we could tell him what the next Army project was that we would investigate."

BEING RELIEVED

Dec. 17—McCarthy to Cohn and Carr: The senator said he had learned from Adams that "Gen. Lawton, who as you recall, cooperated fully with the committee in the exposure of subversives at Fort Monmouth, is about to be relieved of his command. . . ."

Dec. 21—Carr to McCarthy: "I think you should know that the staff of the subcommittee has not called upon Dave Schine's time or services except when necessary to the committee work. . . .

"I agree that contact with him should be kept at a minimum. So far as I have been able to ascertain there has been no instance where he has missed training because of committee work. . . .

"I think you should also know that during the past months since we have been closely associated with John Adams, I have on numerous occasions talked to him on the subject of Dave Schine.

HOSTAGE TOPIC

"In all instances that I can remember the topic either came into the conversation as a natural result of some other subject we were discussing or Adams in a facetious vein made some statement concerning the 'hostage.'

"On a number of these occasions, I have stated that it was my opinion that Schine should get an assignment for which he was qualified and in which he could actually be useful to the Army in an investigatory position.

"I have never, however, suggested that his assignment should be other than one which he is entitled to by all Army standards of fair play."

Jan. 14—Cohn to McCarthy: "John Adams has been in the office again. He said that if we keep on with the hearinsg on the Army, and particularly if we call in those on the loyalty board, who cleared Communists, he will fight us in every way he can.

ON BOARD

"As you know, Adams' present assistant, Haskins, was one of those on the board. His last assistant was eased out after we advised Adams of his record.

"Adams said this was the last chance for me to arrange that law partnership in New York which he wanted. One would think he was kidding, but his persistence on this subject makes it clear he is serious. He said he had turned down a job in industry at $17,500 and needed a guarantee of $25,000 from a law firm."

Jan. 15—Carr to McCarthy: "Maybe one of these days you should speak to Adams in a friendly way. I've tried. He is baiting Roy Cohn pretty much lately on the 'hostage' situation. They get pretty heated before Roy buys the lunch, but it's going to lead to trouble."

TELLS OF MEETING

March 11—In this memo, Carr told of a meeting he attended with McCarthy, Cohn and Assistant Defense Secretary Fred Seaton at which the senator told of hearing a report that the Pentagon planned to distribute copies of the Schine report to subcommittee Democrats.

"Sen. McCarthy advised Mr. Seaton that the writer (Carr) was searching the files for memoranda dictated concerning Schine.

"The senator stated that he that he was not suggesting to Mr. Seaton what he could, or should, do with the report as far as the distribution was concerned, but that he was offering to Mr. Seaton some of the memoranda prepared by the subcommittee concerning Schine.

"The senator stated htat he thought it would only be proper for the Department of Defense to consider these memoranda along with any releases of the Adams report. . . ."

Will Georgia GOP Turn Back Clock?

As Georgia's Republicans meet today, our interest in the session is certainly that of an onlooker, not that of a participant.

But an onlooker can see things perhaps plainer than a participant. And this fact, we believe, is undisputed. Except for a few, a very few, notable exceptions, from the time of Mark Hanna, the Republican organization in the Southern states was of poor political character.

It was known for what it was. It was a skeleton patronage organization which, in some states officially was convicted of selling patronage posts. It was suspect in all.

Not until dedicated men took up the fight in the name of Dwight D. Eisenhower was any prograss made. Even here the fight was bitter. The Taft forces won the Georgia delegation.

It was won by methods which were, in great part, shameful and unworthy. Then the convention itself undid that and seated the delegation pledged to the man now President.

Since that time good progress has been made. Despite the fact some of the Old Guard dragged their feet and privately sought to sabotage the party because they could not get fingers into the patronage pies, the Republican Party in Georgia came to be respected and gained strength. It is ready to put candidates in the next election at county and state levels.

We cannot imagine the men who supported Gen. Elbert Tuttle at Chicago and who have endured the always harassing pioneering work of allaying factional bitterness, throwing up the sponge and abandoning the policy of building a real party free of the old-style methods.

But sometimes men act unwisely. The entire state will be watching to see if the Tuttle faction—or another—will control the Georgia Republican Party.

Moore Family Bears Heavy Burden of Grief

Sorrow comes indiscriminately to mankind, often without warning, sometimes slowly and with accumulative grief and pain. None can say which brings more pain—the shocking, numbing grief which comes apace or that which descends swiftly. But, no matter which, it is hard to bear.

Rarely does so much sorrow come as came to Mr. and Mrs. Donovan O. Moore of Barnesville. Four sons were burned to death in a raging fire, presumably from an exploding stove, which consumed their home early Thursday morning.

To lose one child is a sorrow hardly to be borne. To lose four sons at one time is a load of grief requiring all that a Christian faith can provide to go on with life. The Constitution joins with all the friends of this family, and with the thousands who do not even know them, in sincere sympathy.

Billions Are Needed For New Classrooms

It is no longer a secret that the school problem is continuing to become worse. It is not merely a matter for specific localities or states, but is general the nation over.

Recently Georgia educators have been pointing out that the state now has about 90,000 more youngsters between the ages of one and five than had been anticipated by the Minimum Foundation Program for Education. That's a whopping crop of youngsters that will be in the classrooms within the next six years and who will be crowding the high schools and colleges later.

The U.S. Office of Education recently announced that the public schools of this country went into the current school year with a shortage of 345,000 classrooms. Using current building costs as a guide, this is an estimated $10,000,000,000 worth of classrooms that were not ready for this school year.

That's not the whole story.

Taking population figures, the Office of Education comes up with the information that enough additional children will reach school age in the next six years to require another 220,000 classrooms. On the basis of past experience, a total of 150,000 classrooms will become outmoded and unrepairable in the same period.

Added together, 370,000 classrooms at a cost of $11,000,000,000 and the 345,000 now needed at a cost of $10,000,000,000 presents a staggering challenge. The Office of Education is telling America that it must spend $21,000,000,000 in the next six years on building alone, to maintain minimum standards.

The schools are working hard at the problem as are the people in various school districts. Georgia's school building authority is a model for other states who are trying, too, to catch up. By eliminating frills and architectural refinements, the rise in costs of classroom construction has been held to 108 per cent while the building industry in general has gone up 185 per cent.

Frankly, there's no end to the problem. Four million new citizens joined the population in 1952. They're still arriving. It will take the mental, physical and economic resources of every community in the land to assure them of adequate educational opportunities.

An Atlanta Girl Begins Great Musical Career

Some 3,000 people packed the Wheat Street Church on Thursday evening to hear Miss Mattiwilda Dobbs in her first home-town concert since attaining international status as an operatic and concert artist.

The Atlanta appearance followed her New York debut at Town Hall on Monday evening, one which won for her the generous acclaim of all the experienced critics of that city. She has already established herself in Italy and other countries on the continent and has been featured at the Glyndebourne Festival in England.

A graduate of Spelman College, she was the winner of the 1947 Marian Anderson scholarship. Her story is one in the American tradition in that her family, out of modest means, sacrificed to give her an education. She worked hard to develop her talents, and the country provided opportunity. We congratulate her on her splendidly begun career.

Stock Market Surge Belies Depression Talk

If there is going to be a depression, apparently the stock market knows nothing about it: Thursday saw it hit a 24-year high, climaxing an advance that began in November and has continued on a fairly consistent schedule.

Economists point out that the stock market usually reflects things to come in business. In other words, confidence in the future. Intense stock market activity usually predates business upturns by from four to six months.

At any rate, the current leveling-off period has not frightened investors who are expressing complete confidence in the American economy. It is heartening to those who have been confused by all the conflicting reports about the country's economic health.

We Okay Mr. Larsen's Demand Upon Cupid

We find ourselves in complete sympathy with hard-working Leo Larsen of Danish descent, who is a contractor's assistant in Askov, Minn. Mr. Larsen has gone back to the country of his ancestors to find a wife. With typically Danish common sense, he stipulates certain rules.

The wife must be capable of paying half her ticket to Minnesota. (This keeps out the impecunious and flighty.) She must also have had her appendix removed and be in possession of false teeth. Mr. Larsen generously does not require spares. "I don't want any unforseen expenses," says Mr. Larsen.

We understand Mr. Larsen. As many a young married man has learned from bitter experience, it does look as if most wives wait until they are married to have dental work done; to undergo expensive and long-delayed surgery, and to run up medical bills generally. If we knew where to reach Mr. Larsen we'd urge him to add a doctor's certificate testifying to a recent and thorough physical examination to his list of Cupid's demands.

Bishop Says Fighting Reds Is No Excuse For Tactics Used by McCarthy's Group

Washington, D.C.—I read Mr. McGill's columns with very great interest, and especially the one of Feb. 17. In too many quarters, it is assumed that those who claim they are fighting communism are rendering the nation valuable service and therefore their methods are to be excused.

If the American people were really acquainted with the inexcusable incompetency that has characterized the so-called research of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, and if they were fully advised concerning the abuses of the investigative process practiced by this committee, particularly, in releasing unverified and unevaluated material for whose accuracy the committee does not vouch and which the committee insists does not represent an opinion nor a conclusion of the committee, the American people would rise up and demand the necessary change.

When a man of Mr. McGill's standing speaks out as he did in this superb article, it gives all of us courage.

I am happy he quoted Mr. Farley. Blacklisting 2,200 people in the fashion that has been done is really a vicious practice. I hope this column is reprinted and read throughout the nation. Do let this brief word carry my deep appreciation.

Phrases Are Aimed To Weaken Rights

Rome—We are much in debt for the careful and reasoned defense of the Fifth Amendment. Whatever the character of those who recently have made most flagrant use of it, the protection to our liberties which it affords is not inconsiderable. And the calculated repetition of the phrase "Fifth Amendment Communist" is coldly aimed at undermining each of these guarantees.

Were this venture to succeed, it would not be long before those who boldly held out for freedom of the press, freedom of speech and freedom of assembly would be denounced as First Amendment Communists.

He Dislikes Brass And McCarthy Too

Atlanta—Why do we continue to shield the military? Why do we make "knights in shining armor" of our generals? I am in complete agreement that Senator McCarthy is the most disgraceful public servant that the country has produced since "The South was invaded" in 1861. But more power to him if he can stand up to the brass that so many people seem to hold in high esteem.

For six years as a junior officer I worked with these trade school boys. They are not all as the Wisconsin Senator says, "stupid, arrogant or witless" but many are.

If FDR or HST were in the White House we wouldn't be bothered with McCarthy or the military. They would both be made to stand in a corner when necessary.

He Says McCarthy Just Can't Take It

Atlanta—McCarthyism's top axman, Old Joe himself, is at long last coming face to face with results promised in some of the ancient proverbs and maxims, and he just can't take it.

This self-appointed judge and executioner of men in high places delights in calling Roosevelt, Marshall, Truman, Zwicker, Stevens, and others, such unforgiveable names as traitor, liar, and idiot.

Then Mr. Stevenson accuses the renowned bully of slander, and the bully goes wild with emotion—and shows us again what stuff he's made of.

'She' Is Name For a Barge

Since the piece on the Mississippi River barge traffic appeared, this story on the same subject has come out of Memphis. Husband — See that towboat pushing all those barges. That's life for you. The towboat is man at work while the barge is woman, just floating along. Wife — Just so. And the towboat does all the blowing while the barge keeps quiet and carries the load. (There are dredges, too, on the river.)

Which suggests the steamboat Abe Lincoln said he once saw on a little Illnois river. Abe said it had a five-foot boiler and a seven-foot whistle and every time the whistle blew the boat stopped.

The Farm Problem Is Still With Us

With the coming of spring, plows will begin to turn the earth fragrant and fresh to the warm sun, and preparation for another year of crops will begin. In the nation's capital, plowing already has started and furrowed brows are considering what has come to be known as the "farm problem." The problem is something that's been with us for a long time and there is no indication it is vanishing.

A group of farm bloc senators have indicated they'll attach mandatory high price support requirements to a pending administration bill dealing with wool support prices. Such action, if successful, would extend for two years the 90 per cent parity plan now in effect.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson is not in favor of such an extension. He wishes to supplant the present prop system with "flexible" supports. The secretary, a brave man, feels there can be no solution to the farm problem so long as the government provides rigid support prices. He wishes to vary the supports, hoping thereby to discourage or encourage production, as the case might be, in the various supported crops. His aim is to try and fit agricultural production into the overall economy.

The secretary's hopes do not fit easily into the political picture. There are votes to be reaped this fall, and few officeholders would wish to take a chance on alienating the farmers.

The fact farm prices have been falling the past year does not augur well for Mr. Benson's hopes either. True, the fall has not been as heavy as first feared, but there has been a fall. To be exact, farm income last year went down 5 per cent, and at the same time urban income was up a few percentage points.

The government is piling up a tremendous mountain of produce in its parity program. Approximately $6,500,000,000 in farm products are being stored by the U.S. That means each and every citizen has $43 invested in the farm support program. So we all have a stake in this business.

The farmer himself is another obstacle facing Mr. Benson. Those who live on the land remember the lean days when farm prices were left to sink without restraint. The first Agriculture Adjustment Act in 1933 put a floor under the land, and it's been there every since.

Parity, that magic word meaning equality of farm purchasing power with that of the rest of the economy, has been a part of the agricultural scene for more than 20 years. Economists, agricultural specialists, farmers, and politicians may never get together on whether 90 per cent, 75 per cent of parity, or no per cent, is desirable.

But when the showdown comes in the fields of Congress, both Mr. Benson and his adversaries will get 100 per cent for effort.

Are Panthers Again Roaming the Hills?

One night a few years ago, some of the kids who had been out wandering the shores of the lake at Tate came in panting and bug-eyed. On the slopes of Burnt Mountain, they said, they had heard a wild and eerie sound, a cry like the sound of a woman screaming. Since at that hour of the night all the ladies of the colony were presumably safe and snug at home, with nothing particular to scream about, this report was a great puzzle.

First we tried to argue that maybe what they had heard was a police siren from down the highway. They said it couldn't have been. It came from the side of the mountain directly above where they stood along the road.

Maybe it was an owl, I said. Those old big owls with tufted ears that poke up like horns sometimes utter strange cries. Nope, they said, it wasn't an owl. How about a rabbit, a rabbit taken unaware by a weasel, sometimes utters a thin and piercing cry. Nuts, they said. This cry came from no rabbit that ever lived, or died. It was a shriek and a moan and a wail and a sob all at once, they said, and it made the hair stand up on the head, and the flesh to turn cold with goose-bumps.

For several nights thereafter bold spirits wandered the mountain roads, armed with shotguns, listening for the screech to come again. It never did, and gradually the whole thing was forgotten.

Now comes Mr. Herbert Ravenel Sass, the naturalist and author, to cast a ray of light upon the mystery. Writing in the Saturday Evening Post, Mr. Sass says that the panther which once roamed the hills and valleys of the Appalachians and the swamps of the Eastern Seaboard, is making a comeback after being, presumably, extinct for years.

He is particularly prevalent in the North Carolina mountains, and since the Georgia hills are an extension of that range, it may be presumed that once in a while a far-roving cat will wander down to Georgia. And, said Mr. Sass, it is the habit of the panther when lonesome, or displeased, to rend the night with a weird and almost human cry.

So, what the kids heard, I guess, was an unhappy panther, lonesome for his North Carolina home, to which, I hope, by now, he has returned.

From other sources I read that the bob-cat is coming back in great numbers in Tennessee, and the coyote of the Western Plains is being seen farther and farther East. The way the animals are taking over, it wouldn't surprise me if, any day now some hinterlander should report that out in his pasture, munching contentedly, he had found a herd of buffalo.

Found Consolation Kneeling by Cross

Augusto Caesar Espiritu, a native of the Philippines, is now at Harvard working for his doctor's degree. He wrote a short essay which was printed in the Christian Addvocate. Because it stirred my own heart, I would like to reprint it here. He said:

There was a young man I knew—tall, handsome, courageous, dynamic, brilliant, kind. Master of laws, Harvard, 1952. Excellent preacher and debater, good writer and editor, promising practitioner. President of a national bar association and professor of law—at 27.

He died the other day — my brother.

Five years ago, my father died. That was something I could understand easily — father had fought the good fight, he had run the race, he had finished the course. But why should anyone die when just starting the course — so promising and full of life—only 27?

I groped for an explanation. Here I am, in a strange land, many times gripped by an utter sense of aloneness and friendlessness, my home and loved ones 10,000 miles away in my native Philippines. Then I received a cablegram; he who is closest to me in this world is dead.

I cried and struggled; I rationalized and prayed and protested—for what use?

I found myself huddled in a dark corner of the sanctuary of a cathedral, kneeling beside a Cross where One, too, had died, and in the heavy silence of my aloneness and the tumult raging within me, I seemed to hear the words, "Be still and know that I am God."

I just knelt there and tried to think. My thoughts rushed back to the happy hills of my childhood, to the wooden country church where my brother and I had put on that Christmas play, he as Christ and I as Pilate.

Then there was the war. And its horrors. People dying everywhere, just dying.

In the seclusion of the mountains, my brother put up a makeshift dwelling and a crude cross. It was our church. There we worshipped while our town burned. It didn't matter very much, so long as we knew God still cared.

When liberation came, we attended our first regular service in months. In an improvised army chapel we lifted our voices, together with those of young American soldiers, in praise for our sustenance in the hours of greatest woe.

The church has been a refuge for me since then. Tired and confused with the hectic demands of everyday living, how many times I have retraced my path to the church where I gather for my weary soul peace and a sense of renewal!

In my heart softly rings the hymnal strains of long ago: "Be still my soul . . . bear patiently the cross. . . ." Yes, like a gentle benediction from Heaven.

Tax Favors for Oil In Senate Spotlight

WASHINGTON—Two Republican senators are dramatizing the lack of balance and fairness in our tax laws in a way to challenge both the Eisenhower administration and Democrats. Sens. Aiken (Vermont) and Williams (Delaware) have singled out a notorious piece of favoritism. This is the 27½ per cent depletion allowance for oil. They have introduced jointly an amendment to existing law to cut this to 15 per cent. Such a reduction was recommended repeatedly, and in vain, by the Treasury Department during the Roosevelt and Truman administrations.

Sen. Aiken is a recognized Republican progressive. Sen. Williams, a member of the Senate Finance Committee, won favor for his investigation of the Internal Revenue Bureau that administers our tax laws. In the course of that, you will recall, he turned up numerous scandals.

Their joint move on oil depletion is timely, and would be extremely helpful, beyond itself, if it focused public attention also on other such examples of special tax privilege.

Everybody is tax conscious just now, and alerted. This is because of the personal "Ides of March" for taxpayers, and because Congress, itself, is beginning what promises to be a fairly long and controversial round with various phases of the tax problem. That started with House passage this week of the bill reducing a wide assortment of excise taxes.

The depletion allowance for oil is a flat deduction, an exemption, before computation of taxes. Reports to the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee last year, though scrappy and incomplete, revealed the windfall of many, many millions it means to big oil companies, much more than can be justified in economics or by the necessary risks of the industry.

The oil deduction or exemption has its special meaning to the taxpayer because he is now taking a look at his own meager exemption and deductions. It has been highlighted, too, in another way. In the recent rash of publicity about the Texas oil barons, the depletion allowance windfall is spotted as a "kitty" from which they can finance their political activity which, as we have learned, is not necessarily for the good of the rank and file citizen.

The Eisenhower administration had a real opportunity in the revision of our internal revenue laws by the House Ways and Means Committee that began last summer with exhaustive public hearings and just wound up this week with submission of the huge bill. Oil depletion was a subject on the agenda. But Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey did not peep about it, except to say that recommendations on it and a few other issues of the same sort would not be submitted to Congress at this session. When the committee came to the oil depletion allowance, it just passed on, doing nothing. It's still in the law.

As we have seen, the administration's tax revision program, which was largely ratified by the committee, would give the bulk of tax relief to corporations through liberalizing depreciation allowances and to owners of stocks by cutting taxes on dividends. Only a small proportion of direct relief comparatively was provided to the average family, and that for special circumstances.

School for Outcasts

LAKELAND, Fla., March 12—Dick Donovan was admitting he's probably the only pitcher in Florida sorry to see Ted Williams disabled. "I don't mean it the way it sounds," he said, "but I feel like I own the guy. Did you know that he never got a hit off me in spring training, even in the City Series when I was with the Braves?"

There has been some gossip going around that Donovan was that way about Williams. Natural, perhaps, for Williams always seemed to make the boy's springs so gay, and always in the spring Donovan has been incredibly spectacular. One year down here, when he was a Brave and the Braves belonged to Boston, Donovan never allowed a run the entire spring.

Bisher

But when the season opened up yonder, it was a case of another Donovan taking over. He has yet to win his first major league decision. Detroit decided to give him this chance after his 11-8, 3.71 ERA season in Atlanta, and he's here now on a look-see basis. The look is good, for Donovan is having another one of his springs.

"Spring pitcher, am I?" he said with feigned querulousness. "What about last spring? That was for the birds. I had a lousy spring. But that Williams, oh, how I love to pitch to my pal. He's been good to me."

Detroit coddles the name with fondness, for back in the riotous days of Cobb, Jennings, Crawford and pennants, there was a Tiger pitcher of great fame named Wild Bill Donovan. Wild Bill later managed the Yankees until he died in a train wreck about 1918.

This Donovan, the Atlanta delegate, is privately rated as the one recruit who may add some character to Fred Hutchinson's staff this year. They'll talk for the record, of Frank Lary, the Alabama kid and a 17-game winner at Buffalo; Bob Cruze, late of Little Rock, but later of the Army; Paul Foytack, one of those forever candidates who's still just a candidate, and even Dick Welk, who's got great speed but an earned-run average of 14.21. Even old Milo Johnson, at last a big league invitee at the age of 33, is here, but now, no more than another mouth to feed at the training table.

Donovan, however, is the one pitcher with the chance, as it goes now. Hutchinson will figure on Bill Hoeft, Ted Gray, Ray Herbert, Ralph Branca, Ned Garver and Steve Gromek for the backbone of the staff. It doesn't seem improvable that Donovan should nail down one of the four remaining availabilities.

(Sports Editor Furman Bisher is on tour of the major league training camps in Florida.)

"If I don't now, just say for me it isn't Whitlow Wyatt's fault," he said. "There's nothing left to teach me after what he did for me last summer. That slider—that was the pitch that got me here, and Whit taught it to me."

—Another Boner, Exclusively Greenberg

At one time last season, in the throes of vertigo, the Tigers almost spun out of sight. They were 10 games deep in eighth place at one time, and still managed to spring out and into sixth.

"Two things did it," Hutchinson said, "Ray Boone and some pitching."

Boone, another one of Hank Greenberg's increasing collection of monumental horse-trading boners, came June 15 in the big Art Houtteman deal. Hutchinson stationed the misfit shortstop at third base and the explosion was deafening. Boone hit .312 for Detroit, drove home 114 runs, hit 26 homers and curled Al Lopez' hair at the same time. As he rose, the Tigers rose with him.

A BOONE BLOOMS IN DETROIT'S GARDEN

Infielder Blossomed Out After Leaving Cleveland

There was one peculiar record the Indian discard made in Detroit. He came to bat six times with the bases loaded, hit four grand-slam home runs, one triple and drove in another run with a long fly.

Leading contributors to the pitching stand were Branca, exiled from Brooklyn; Gray, Hoeft and Gromek. At first base, big Walt Dropo took heart and belted home 96 runs. It was only .500 ball, but it restored a frightened Detroit to its proper attitude where the Tigers are concerned. Red Rolfe had just been canned the year before. It wouldn't have been socially proper to send Hutchinson, an old faithful, packing after him.

—Bonus Boys and Reclamation Projects

In the story of that climb, it has been seen that Boone, Branca and Dropo were instrumental. Detroit has not been publicly operating a school for the mentally belabored, but it is significant that each of these gentlemen had been delivered into a state of frustration by their last employers.

Boone had become convinced in Cleveland he was an outcast at shortstop. Branca never had been given a breath of air since Bobby Thomson picked him with the historic homer in the 1951 National League playoff. Dropo had been shipped off to San Diego by the Red Sox at one time in a futile gesture at reclamation. In Detroit, each has begun a new life. Yet, these authentic restorations are not enough to remove the Tigers from their state of prevailing ordinariness.

"Last year they tried to win with a triple-A club," observed one camp follower. "Now they're going to try it with a bunch of double-A guys this year. That doesn't represent progress to me."

Frank House, one of the first of the red-hot bonus boys, is home from the military and represents new strength at backstop. Detroit, it seems, has taken to the bonus idea, now must carry three this year, infielder Reno Bertoia, outfielder Al Kaline and pitcher Bob Miller. Kaline runs like a guy with two hotfeet, has power, but hits infrequently yet. He is, you see, only 19 years old, but Detroit envisions him a great star with his God-given equipment.

Bill Tuttle, in from a .276 year at Buffalo, stands well in the outfield scramble. One might figure Harvey Kuenn, the plump rookie meteor at short, to step up his gait as a sophomore, except how much better can a guy do than lead his league in hits and give his team range and solid protection at short? If he has a weakness, it's the double play, though he had to adjust himself to five different second base mates last year.

Any way you slice it, you can't see anything in new, overpowering strength except in the possibilities of Tuttle, House and Donovan. Unless, that is, some of the major league neighbors have a few more cases of creeping frustration they'd like old Doc Hutchinson to consider.

FIRST EXHIBITION SUNDAY AGAINST TOLEDO

Wyatt Pronounces Crackers OK After Early Drills

By JESSE OUTLAR
Constitution Sports Writer

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 12—Convinced that his Atlanta Crackers are in shape after almost a week of workouts, Manager Whitlow Wyatt now is eager to find out how they shape up.

And he'll have plenty of time to decide during a 24-game exhibition schedule, starting with Sunday's game against Toledo at Myrtle Avenue Park.

"I'm completely satisfied with the progress made during this first week," Wyatt said after Friday's session. "I've been going to spring training since 1928, and I've never seen any squad with more enthusiasm."

Enthusiasm alone doesn't win pennants, however, and from now until the Southern Association bell sounds April 9, emphasis will be on ability.

And even before the first game, it's apparent that several of the young men here have talent.

John Turco

Jim Solt

Practically every position on the '54 edition is unsettled as the bout for jobs begins.

Starting with the catchers, you have Jim Solt, who's as near a cinch for a regular post as you'll find here. Lou Soscia, who caught for Eau Claire before entering the service, is the only other experienced hand. Tommy Gatts, signed as a free agent off the House of David, and Wally Widholm, a rookie from the University of Connecticut. Facchini, a flashy fielder, is fresh from the service. Porter, in his fourth season in the Brave chain, was promoted after a fine season with Jacksonville.

Keenest competition on the club is at third base, where veterans Vern Petty and Paul Rambone are competing. Petty is going to have to go all out to keep Rambone from ousting him from the station, which he has operated for the past two seasons. Rambone, shipped down from Toledo, can also play second and short, and some of the other infielders double at more than one position.

A battle royal is developing in the outfield, with seven flychasers on the roster and more aid expected from the Braves.

Junior Wooten, provided he can snap back from a dismal season in '53, probably will be the first baseman. However, Wyatt insists that Wooten doesn't have a job reserved for him.

Bob Montag

Billy Smith

When Wooten does arrive—he's still in Williamston, S.C., having some dental work done—he'll find the first base scene crowded. "Who's on first?" is more than a joke here, for Buck Riddle, Billy, Bobby and Jimmy Smith, Hal Pfeiffer and Bob Montag are on the first base register.

Second base is vacant, and a proven vet is expected to be imported from the Braves.

Two of the most impressive freshmen in camp — Al Facchini and Bill Porter — are scrapping for the shortstop post. Centerfielder John Turco, the former Holy Cross football star, may make the leap from Class B Evansville to Double A in his second season as a pro.

Bob Montag, dropping down from Toledo, packs more power than any man on the club, but his reputation as a fielder is something less than sensational. Jack Cerin, one-time Little Rock outfielder who played for Charleston, W. Va., and Toledo last season; Billy Smith, a '53 Cracker who's trying to land a job at two positions, as is Bobby Smith; Frank Smith, Nate Peeples and Mauro Iacovello, round out the list.

Pitching should be the strong point of this club. Bob Giggie,

Bob Giggie

Jack Brittin

Leo Cristante, Jack Brittin, who seems to have recovered from an arm ailment; rookie Jim Pope and Bill Ayers form the nucleus of a top-drawer staff.

Wyatt will give John Fitzgerald, who won only one game for Atlanta last year, and rookies Paul Cave, Bob Hines, Jose Lopez, Noel Oquendo, Rudy Fortin, Glenn Hittner, Herb Grissom and Umberto Robinson thorough trials.

Babe Breaks Record But Suggs Holds Lead

Louise's 71-144 Good for Two-Stroke Bulge Despite Zaharias' Sizzling 70 at Augusta

By BERT PRATHER
Constitution Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, March 12—A spectacular 70 by fabulous Babe Zaharias broke the Titleholders tournament record by a stroke, but it was not sufficient to dislodge determined little Louise Suggs from her front running position as the star-studded field reached the 36-hole mark in the 15th playing of this famous women's links classic.

Mrs. Zaharias, staging a comeback after a serious operation last year, was nothing short of sensational as she racked up three birdies, 14 pars and only one bogey—a five on No. 13—while fashioning her record round.

Today's 70 tacked onto her opening round 76 gave her a 36-hole total of 146. This left her two big strokes behind Suggs, who answered Babe's challenge today with a sparkling one-under 71 for a two-round tally of 144.

While the Babe was making her move to catch the steady-stroking Atlanta professional, defending champion Patty Berg of Chicago, whose opening round 74 was only one stroke off Suggs' lead, lost ground today with a 76. Her total of 150 was still good for third and no one was counting out the chunky Chicago veteran, a five-time winner here.

Betty Dodd, a protege of Zaharias from Tampa; Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., and pretty Barbara Romack, the Canadian Amateur titlist from Sacramento, Calif., were deadlocked for fourth place with 151s. Dodd, who played with the Babe today, posted a 74, while Romack and Jameson shot 76s.

Betty MacKinnon of Mt. Pleasant, Tex., whose 73 was third best round of the day, stood at 152, a stroke ahead of National Open champion Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C., and amateur Helen Sigel Wilson of Philadelphia.

Atlanta's Dorothy Kirby, hitting her shots unusually well considering her lack of practice, was next in line with a 78-77—155.

Happiest gal here probably was National Amateur champion Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville. Mary Lena registered a neat 74, which was just 11 strokes better than her disappointing opening round 85.

Mrs. Zaharias shot seven straight pars before picking off a birdie four on eight after coming out of the trap to within six inches of the cup. After making the turn in 35, the Tampa star birdied the 500-yard par-five 11th hole, getting down an eight-footer.

Babe's only slip-up came on the 13th where she needed to get out of a ditch. She got this back pretty quick, however, by sinking a six-footer for a birdie on the long 15th. "Several putts failed to fall, but I'm not kicking about this round," the Babe said.

The 70 breaks the old mark of 71 established by Zaharias in the '47 tournament and equalled by Marlene Bauer three years later.

Suggs, playing right behind Zaharias and Dodd, cashed in on a steady putting stroke. Lou-

Notre Dame Upsets Indiana; Penn State Topples Tigers

Pettit Gets 34 In NCAA Loss

IOWA CITY, Iowa, March 12 (AP)—The Fighting Irish of Notre Dame smashed mighty Indiana's hopes of a second straight NCAA basketball title tonight in the very first round of the Iowa City Regional, edging the champions 65-64.

The Irish held all-America Don Schlundt to one field goal.

Penn State upset Louisiana State 78-70 in the other first round game despite a 34-point show by Bob Pettit.

Dick Rosenthal scored 25 points and covered Schlundt like a blanket as the Irish won their 18th consecutive game and handed the Hoosiers their first NCAA defeat in three tries for the crown.

Rosenthal scored the point that made the difference with 15 seconds to play. It came after he had collapsed and became ill on the sidelines with less than a minute and a half to play.

Jesse Arnelle, one of the smoothest swinging hook shot artists anywhere, sparked the spectacular upset for the Penn Staters who were the last at-large team picked for the sprawling 24-team tournament.

Arnelle played superbly, faking, rebounding and shooting with amazing skill. His 24 points were high for the winners.

St. Benedict Wins

KANSAS CITY, March 12 (AP)—The St. Benedict's Ravens of Atchison, Kan., won the right to meet Western Illinois of Macomb Saturday for the National Intercollegiate (NAIA) basketball championship by upsetting Arkansas Tech's wonder boys 63-59 tonight.

Western Illinois stopped Springfield (Mo.) State's bid for a third straight National Intercollegiate (NAIA) basketball championship with a 78-75 decision in the semifinals tonight.

Navy, LaSalle Win

PHILADELPHIA, March 12 (AP). All-America Tom Gola scored 26 points and grabbed 26 rebounds in a spectacular all-around performance tonight to lead LaSalle College to an 88-81 victory over North Carolina State in the quarter-final round of the NCAA Eastern Regional tournament. Navy won the right to meet LaSalle in tomorrow night's semifinal game

Handy Hand Shoulders Tifton Past Campbell Quintet, 62-55

Druids Shade Valdosta, 55-52, Gain Class A Finals Shot Against Devils

By LARRY FOX

With crew-cropped Ronald Hand potting one-handers from all angles, Tifton's battling Blue Devils threw off a 10-point deficit and smashed to a 62-55 semifinals victory over Campbell of Fairburn in the state Class A boys' basketball tournament at Bass High Friday night.

FAIRBURN'S MOEN DRAWS BEAD ON BUCKET

As Tifton's Markham (17), Studdard (4), and Hand (3) Advance

Druid Hills, defending champion, gained Saturday night's finals with a hair-raising 55-52 victory over Valdosta in the first game. Tifton and Druid Hills meet for the title at 8:30 in the Bass gym. The losers clash for third place at 7.

Tifton converted a 15 per cent shooting average in the first half into a 50 per cent accuracy mark in the second as Hand, who scored only one free throw in each of the first two quarters, ignited midway in the third period.

Fairburn boosted a 24-18 halftime lead to 34-24 before Hand popped in three straight field goals.

He ended the spurt with seven straight buckets an da total of 21 points. His field goal with five seconds left in the third period tied the score at 42-42 and he gave the Blue Devils a 44-42 margin as play resumed. Tifton took it from there.

Backing up Ronald Hand was Lefty Markham with 13 and Jerry Studdard with 11.

Tops for Fairburn was Carl Bingham with 21 points. Leonard Moen got 16 and Ray (Red) Carroll, 12.

Valdosta, trailing by 10 in the third, blistered back to make a game of it on long firing by Maxwell Taylor. At one point he canned four straight long-sets for the Wildcats. Valdosta came up to 44-46 at the quarter and Cliff Laub tied the score with a jump shot seconds after the final session opened.

Druid Hills pulled back into a 50-47 lead but Laub bulled Valdosta in front for the first time. Two straight field goals and a foul shot by the husky center made it 52-50, Valdosta, with 2:20 remaining.

The Druids, 2-A champions, never lost poise. They worked slowly until Buddy Edwards drew the foul that meant two free throws and a tie with 1:15 remaining.

Edwards, who got only seven in all, became the Druid Hills hero when he broke loose for what proved to be the winning basket with seconds remaining. A free throw by Louie Stanley iced it.

Laub was high scorer with 18 while teammate Taylor got 15; David Webb, 11. David Schaefer got 16 for the Druids; Bob Thomson, 15.

Coach Absent, Tifton In Finals on Its Own

A makeshift coaching staff has guided Tifton into the finals of the State Class A Boys' Basketball Tournament against Druid Hills Friday.

Fred Tucker, who guided the Blue Devils to second place in the Region 1-A tournament, had to leave the squad and enplane for Colorado because of a serious illness in the family.

So handling the team had been the combination of W. A. (Pig) Davis, the Blue Devils' football coach, and Frank-Touchstone, who tutored the Tifton girls' basketball team. Between them, they've gotten the Blue Devils well along the road.

This year's tournament field is pretty much below last year's standard, according to Druid Hills Coach Elmer Morrow . . . but he admits it's a pretty good thing.

Druid Hills won the title last year and is in the finals this time . . . but with a much weaker team. "We don't have the big boy this time," says Morrow, although the rest of his team presents a dangerous, well-balanced attack. "I never know who's going to be the high scorer," Morrow reports. Against Valdosta in the semifinals Thursday, the Druid Hills scoring went 16, 15, 9, 8, 7.

Druid Hills stuck to its zone defense all evening in beating Valdosta, 55-52. "We didn't have to come out of it at all," Morrow commented, "for even when they had their lead (two points), we had possession of the ball."

"We never had to use our press," he added, "which may make it something Tifton will see plenty of Saturday night."

GEHRIG'S MOTHER DIES, WILLS LOU'S TROPHIES TO SHRINE

MILFORD, Conn., March 12 (AP)—Mrs. Christina Gehrig, 72-year-old mother of the late Lou Gehrig, great New York Yankee first baseman and slugger in the 1930s, died today in Milford Hospital.

She had hoped to live long enough to see the Yankees open the 1954 baseball season. She suffered a stroke Wednesday.

She had maintained an intense interest in the sport in which her son—the "Iron Horse" of baseball—became famous. She was one of the promoters of Little League baseball in this town and rarely missed a game.

In New York, her lawyer announced she had willed all the trophies and awards received by her famous son to the National Baseball Museum at Cooperstown, N.Y. which honored Lou with membership among its immortals.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 11 a.m. (EST) in a funeral home here. Burial will be in the Kensico Cemetery, Valhalla, N.Y. There are no immediate survivors.

Middlecoff and Breeze Overhaul Kroll at BR

Cary and Ted Tied at 138; Furgol Stroke Back; Holscher Sets Mark

BATON ROUGE, La., March 12 (AP)—Tournament favorite Cary Middlecoff scored another windblown sub-par round today to draw into a tie with New Yorker Ted Kroll for a one-stroke lead in the $10,000 Baton Rouge PGA Open.

Cary Middlecoff

With most scores soaring in the skittish breezes that buffeted the 6,411-yard country club course, the former Memphis dentist posted a 71 alongside his opening day 67 for a total of 138 at the halfway mark.

Kroll ran into putter trouble and had to scramble to keep the pace. The new Hartford, N.Y., professional came in at 72.

A stroke behind was slim Ed Furgol of St. Louis, who also had to come on with a rush to make the regulation figure after blazing a 67 in the opening round.

Al Besselink of Grossinger, N.Y., front runner with Kroll in the opening round, slipped into a fourth-place tie with Wally Ulrich of Maplewood, N.J.; Jim Ferrier, San Francisco; Dave Douglas, also of Grossinger; Jerry Kesselring of Toronto, Can., and Henry Williams Jr. of Reading, Pa., all bunched at 140.

Middlecoff clinched his tie with a brilliant approach shot on the 18th hole, a 90-yarder that left him within tapping distance of the cup and a birdie.

Bud Holscher, White Plains, N.Y., set a course record for nine holes with a thundering 31 coming in. He closed with a 68 for a one-under-par 143.

Tournament officials cut the field in half, narowing it to the low 60 professionals and 10 amateurs for tomorrow's third round.

50,000 Racing Fans Flock to Hunter AFB

Special to The Constitution

SAVANNAH, March 12—More than 50,000 visitors are expected in Savannah this weekend for what local enthusiasts call the greatest sports spectacle in recent history in the pioneer Georgia metropolis—the Grand Prix sports car races at Hunter Air Force base.

Beginning today, the gala weekend schedules a parade through the city at 3 p.m., a concert by the U.S. Air Force Drum and Bugle Corps at 8 p.m. and the Savannah National Sports Car Ball at the Desoto Hotel Saturday night at 9 o'clock.

A motor show will head the agenda Sunday at Hunter Air Force Base with all American and foreign sports cars on display, and a review of B-47 Stratojets, two KC-97 Aerial Tankers, F-84 Thunderjets, the Sabrejet and many other planes.

Four races on the Savannah National schedule include the Azalea Cup, the Shamrock Cup, the Coastal Empire Race, and finally the Savannah Grand Prix.

In an extra attraction, a trophy will be awarded for the most sportsmanlike performance in the race. Altogether 68 awards will be made.

Two courses are ready for use at the base—a five-mile circuit with 12 turns and a two-mile straightaway. A 3.5-mile course will be used in the race for smaller cars.

Bucs' Six Homers Down Braves, 25-11

Sinovic Homers for Milwaukee; Mathews Gets Triples, Errors

BRADENTON, Fla., March 12 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates belted six home runs today to rout the Milwaukee Braves, 25-11, in a major league exhibition game.

Frank Thomas clouted two of the homers and Sid Gordon, obtained by trade from the Braves last winter, Jerry Lynch, Jack Lohrke and Brandy Davis added the others. The six blasts gave the Pirates a total of 15 home runs in their last three games.

The Pirates chased three pitchers in a nine-run seventh-inning. Lynch, a rookie outfielder up from the Piedmont League, led the 19-hit Pirate attack with two triples and a single in addition to his homer to drive in six runs.

Eddie Mathews, the Braves' home run king, slammed three triples but also made three errors. Danny O'Connell, acquired in the Gordon trade, and rookie Dick Sinovic, up from Atlanta hit homers for the Braves.

Orioles Tame Cubs

YUMA, Ariz., March 12 (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles jammed 12 runs across in their last four innings to defeat the Chicago Cubs, 14-9, in a free-swinging exhibition contest today, their sixth victory in seven games.

The Cubs had gone ahead, 9-6, on homers in the sixth inning by Bill Serena, Ernie Banks and Hal Jeffcoat that produced five runs. Serena's came with two men on base.

Chicago's White Sox meet the Philadelphia Phils today in the season's first televised Game of the Week. WLW-A will carry it locally, beginning at 1:55 p.m.

Duane Pillette, who came on for Baltimore at the start of the seventh, held the Cubs scoreless and picked up the win. Jim Willis, last of three Chicago pitchers, was the loser.

Dick Kryhoski hit the lone homer for the Orioles. Masser, in his first game, had a perfect day, driving in four runs on 3 for 3.

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 12 (AP). Willie Mays slammed two more homers today to spark the New York Giants to a 13-5 victory over the Cleveland Indians and snap a four-game losing streak. Rookie second baseman Ronnie Samford and first sacker Whitey Lockman also connected with homers for the Giants. Samford clicked with one on in the second inning while Lockman came through with two on in the eighth.

HC, Dukes Collide for NIT Title

Defense, Offense Pitted in Garden

NEW YORK, March 12 (AP)—Duquesne, perhaps the best defensive team in major college basketball but an unsteady performer right now, and blazing-hot Holy Cross, one of the top scoring teams, meet tomorrow night in the final game of the 17th National Invitation Basketball Tournament.

Western Kentucky and Niagara, the losers in Thursday's semifinals, clash in a preliminary to decide third place. With the upset-seeking Crusaders as the big attraction, Madison Square Garden is likely to be packed to its 18,000 capacity for the first time this season.

The final also is expected to provide a sparkling individual duel between Togo Palazzi, the Holy Cross sharpshooter, and Duquesne's lanky Dick Ricketts.

Duquesne, the top-seeded team, seemed to lose some of its spirit after its 22-game winning streak was snapped. Still the Dukes, relying on Ricketts and their sound defense, managed to get "up" in time to beat St. Francis of Loretto, Pa., and Niagara in tournament games.

Going into the NIT, the Dukes had a defensive average of 52.9 points a game, just a shade behind Oklahoma A&M in the national records.

Holy Cross, with an 84-point average for the reguar season, was fourth in the latest offensive figures.

Party Planned For Joe Bean

Joe Bean will be 80 years old Thursday and all his former players at Georgia Tech, Marist and the Atlanta Athletic Club have picked that night to honor him with a gala birthday party.

Monk Johnson at CY. 4357 is in charge of arrangements.

Clark Cager Ranks Fifth

NEW YORK, March 12 (AP)—Montclair State of New Jersey has established a team scoring record of 96.7 points and there is not much likelihood it will be surpassed in the waning days of the current basketball season.

Small college statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau show the Montclair Indians scored at the rate of 104.9 points through their last nine games to break the record of 94.1 a game hung up by Arkansas Tech last year. Montclair ended its season with 18 wins and four losses.

Can You Improve Your Thinking By Improving Your English?

"Yes," says Don Bolander, director of English at Career Institute in Chicago.

"Men and women enroll for our home course in English to acquire the techniques of fluent conversation, to improve their writing, to increase their vocabularies, to speed up their reading, to stop making embarrassing mistakes in English. But the study of practical English pays off in unexpected ways," says Bolander, "because language is a tool of thought as well as a tool of expression.

"You use words with which to think. The more you learn about words and how to arrange them to express your ideas, the better your thinking becomes. The improvement of your English — including your thinking—can lead to amazing personal achievements."

Write today for free 32-page booklet, YOUR ENGLISH AND YOUR CAREER. It explains the importance of English in your personal, social, and business life. It shows how the CAREER INSTITUTE COURSE IN PRACTICAL ENGLISH can help you achieve your special goals quickly in your spare time at home. Address a card or letter to Don Bolander, Dept. AC-3, Career Institute, 25 East Jackson Blvd., Chicago 4, Illinois. The booklet will be mailed to you promptly.

Blackshear, Valley Gain Class B Finals

Rosemont, Pinehurst Clash For C Cage Title Tonight

By CHARLIE ROBERTS
Constitution Sports Writer

MACON, March 12—Blackshear's Tigers and Fort Valley's Green Wave stormed into the finals of the state Class B tournament after terrific struggles, and Rosemont's Raiders and Pinehurst's Pirates slashed into the C division's last round with ease before a near-full house Friday night at the Macon City Auditorium.

Coach Country Childs' Eighth District Blackshear entry was given a 30-point stint by slippery Donald Bowen but had to overcome a great 31-point effort by Cass High's lefty J. B. Bearden in a 72-69 triumph over the thrice-Seventh District champs from near Cartersville.

Norman Faircloth's Fort Valleyites slipped past Bowdon's worthy Fourth District kings, 63-52, after a bitter fight in which Ed Beck, 6-7 ace of the Third District tourney favorites, sat out most of the last half with four fouls, and Bowdown star Donald Stitcher fouled out trying to guard Beck in the first half.

The Cass High cagers had probably the oldest fan ever to see a tourney game rooting for them against Blackshear. W. W. Young, 92-year-old Cartersville druggist, made the trip down for the game.

Bayward McManus and Donnie Lanier flipped in 19 and 18 points in leading Fourth District Rosemont to a 58-36 lashing of Darien's Red Devils of the First District.

Gary Holland, wavy-haired blond who carries only 139 pounds on a 6-3 frame, wriggled through Gordon defenses for 32 points to lift Pinehurst's underdogs to a stunning 81-40 victory over the Sixth District Redskins.

Beck lopped home all of his 15 points in the first half, and Fort Valley had to lean on 13, 13, 11 and 8-point production by Gresham Aultman, Eddie Merritt, Delmar Fennell and Claude Wilson to eke out its triumph. Clifford Adams, Roy Wilson and Junior Styles bagged 16, 13 and 12 for Bowdon.

Tonight's Finals

7:30 P.M.—Rosemont vs. Pinehurst (C)
9:00 P.M.—Blackshear vs. Fort Valley (B).

George Brantley hit 14 points for Blackshear, but his big contribution was in keeping big Earl Tidwell well guarded. Tidwell had 10 poinst when he fouled out late in the game, but along with Bearden, Emmett Holmes and Johnny Stegall, who had 14 and nine points, made it tough on well-balanced Blackshear, which got 10-point stints out of Calvin Bennett and Jackie Dixon.

The toothpick legged Holland, a handkerchief tied to his trunks and looking less like an athlete than the late Mahatma Ghandi, slickered his way in for 9, 11, 7 and five points in the four quarters for lightly regarded Pinehurst and proved his 23-point effort in a 56-55 nipping of Lilburn the day before was no fluke.

Five Crackers Find FenceRange, Clout 20

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 12—Crackers put on a power exhibition Friday, smashing some 20 "homers" over the Myrtle avenue park left field fence, which is 350 down the line.

Paul Rambone, Bobby Smith, Nate Peeples, Buck Riddle and Jimmy Smith were a few of the guys finding the range.

Humberto Robinson, Negro right-hander who won 18 games at Evansville in '53, checked in from Panama, leaving Junior Wooten the only absentee Robinson is a slim sidearmer, packing only 145 pounds on a six-foot frame.

Speaking of weight, pitcher Bill Ayers probably was the most "under weighted" man on any roster this spring. The Crackers listed him at 185, but he weighed 225 when he reported to Bradenton the other day. He's already down to 218, probably will pitch at about 210. . . . John Mullen, Brave farm director, pulled out for the Waycross camp Friday night. . . . Ironically, Jacksonville, also a member of the Brave chain, goes to Waycross to train. . . . Leo Cristante, Bob Giggie and Jim Pope, listed to hurl Sunday's exhibition with Toledo, say they're ready to throw at full steam.

Barons Rip Yanigans in Squad Game

OCALA, Fla., March 12 (AP)—In the only Southern loop intrasquad activity today, the Birmingham Barons walloped their reserves, 14-3, after being held to close wins in previous short contests.

Seven of the tallies were off Don Ferguson with John Miastowski homering inside the lot with two mates aboard.

Frank Lucas was handled for eight hits and five runs in the first three innings by the regulars, who got 17 safeties altogether. Louis Job, Dave Benedict and Art Weber only gave up five.

VERO BEACH, Fla.—Mobile's rookie outfielder Ray Cucharini slammed four balls out of the park here today for manager Stan Wasiak and Lyle Olsen was hot at the plate too. Working out in the bullpen, McKinley Mosely was "looking good" for Wasiak. Mosely pitcher a no-hitter in Newport News last year.

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. — Crazy baseball, with all hands running at sprint track speed made up the workouts for the Memphis Chicks Friday, fly-shagging, infield practice, exercises and baserunning. We're getting in shape fast," pilot Don Gutteridge said, looking toward the Sunday exhibition game with the Pittsburgh Pirates' "B" team.

WINTER GARDEN, Fla.—The Washington Senators have sent four familiar faces home to the Chattanooga Lookouts: Catcher Andy Anderson, and pitchers Raoul Sanchez, Bill Mullins, and Dick Hagen. Anderson finished the season in Chattanooga last year, Sanchez and Mullins had 9-11 and 1-1 records with the Lookouts and Hagen pitched for Charlotte with a 2-1 record.

Three Finish For Aces in Tourney Win

The Brookhaven Aces, playing the last four and a half minutes with only three men, won a squeaker, 88-87, over Post 156 to enter the semifinals of the Hapeville Gold Medal basketball tournament Friday night.

Buddy Towe got 32 points for the winners and Virlyn Wood got the night's high of 36 for the Legion team. The Aces tangle Saturday night at 9 p. m. with the Red Shield quintet which bested Fort McPherson's courtmen, 78-73, with Ferrell Farr's 24 their stake in the Hapeville High gym.

In the third game of the night, Atlanta General Depot won, 84-66, over Post 169 with Orbin McEarl dropping in 27 points for the winners.

The Depot gang meets Hapeville's Rebels in the other semifinal contest Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Arena Meet Opens Today

Camp Gordon is top-seeded in the men's open division of the 15th annual Sports Arena Open basketball tournament that opens Saturday with a three-game afternoon schedule starting at 1:45.

The Reeder-McGaughey Sugar Bowlers are second-seeded behind the soldiers. The Tomboys and the Peaches top the girls' seedings.

THE SCHEDULE

Saturday's Games

1:45 P.M.—East Point vs. Scottdale; 3 p.m.—Schlitz vs. Morningside; 4:15 p.m.—Post 169 vs. Eagles.

Sunday's Games

10:30 A.M.—Cumming vs. East Point-Scottdale winner; 11:45 a.m.—Lithonia vs. Miller All-Stars; 1 p.m.—Superior vs. Austell; 2:30 p.m.—Camp Gordon vs. Brookhaven; 3:45 p.m.—Gray vs. Post 156; 5 p.m.—Hahira vs. Oliverettes; 6:15 p.m.—Peaches vs. Wildcats; 7:30 p.m.—Dobbins vs. Sugar Bowlers.

Southern Cal Wins

CORVALLIS, Ore., March 12 (AP). A fast-passing Southern California team worked the ball in close repeatedly to run away from Idaho State, 73-59, here tonight in the first round of the Far West Regional NCAA Basketball Tournament.

Roy Ervin, Southern California center, led the way with 25 points, most of them on short hook shots and lay-ins.

Southern California had more all-around height and controlled the backboards especially in the closing half. The tight Trojan defense allowed Idaho State few good shots. Meanwhile the Trojans made 37 per cent of their shots and made the game a rout in the closing quarter.

Idaho State had only one big man, 6-foot, 7-inch Rick Bauer, an dthe Trojans massed on him to hold him to eight points.

Aggies Conquer

STILLWATER, OKLA., March 12 (AP) — The Oklahoma Aggies, warming up in the final period after consistently missing the bucket during the first three quarters, defeated Rice, 51-45, tonight in the semifinals of the NCAA Western Regional basketball tournament before 8,000 screaming partisans.

Bob Carney, Bradley's shooting star, tallied 37 points and set a new NCAA free throw record of 23 in the defeat of Colorado, 76-64, in tonight's opener, topping Johnny O'Brien's mark of 18.

The doubleheader was played in an Oklahoma dust storm so thick the floor had to be dusted off after evry quarter.

ise, winner of the 1946 Titleholders and LPGA leading money winner last year, was even par 36 on the front nine and 35 coming home.

The Atlantan lost a stroke on each of the second and third holes but picked them back up at five and eight, two long holes. She barely missed an eagle effort at five and sank a 12-footer for her four at eight.

An 18-footer fell for a birdie four at 11, but trap trouble cost her a blow on the short 13th. With news drifting back that Zaharias was going strong, Louise boldly knocked in a 10-footer for a birdie three at 16 and saved a par four after missing the green at 17 with another 10-foot putt.

Berg started strong, posting a 35 to catch Louise at nine, but tired badly on the back nine. She hit four traps on this side and missed putts of two, three and four feet to add to her woes.

As the battle moved into Saturday's third round, it appears to be a battle between Suggs, Zaharias and Berg. Romack is making a strong bid for low amateur prize, but Faulk and Wilson could spoil her plans.

FOUR TOP-NOTCHERS LOST

Bulldogs Hitch New Title Hopes To Hurlers Parrish and Foster

By DEWEY BENEFIELD
Special to The Constitution

ATHENS, Ga., March 13—Georgia will field a strong baseball team this season, believes Coach Jim Whatley, but whether or not the Bulldogs can successfully defend their Southeastern Conference championship depends on the pitching staff more than any other factor.

"We have nine lettermen returning," says Whatley, "but we lost by graduation four outstanding performers: Capt. Nathan Williams at second base; Kermith (all-SEC) Hall, catcher; Jackie (all-SEC) Roberts, pitcher, and Johnny (all-SEC) Clifton, center field. Roberts was our winningest pitcher last year with an 8-2 record."

Reggie Andrews

The Bulldogs return two all-SEC selections, Capt. Bobby Sherrer, senior third baseman of Langdale, Ala., and Reggie Andrews, junior shortstop of Macon.

Whatley is counting heavily on the tall Parrish and Foster, who had 7-1 and 5-2 pitching records, respectively, last season.

"We suffered a tough blow recently when Marvin Satterfield broke his left wrist playing basketball," commented Whatley. "He was our only lefthander and had a 2-0 record last year, working in seven games.

"If he gets to pitch at all this year it will be late in the season, I'm afraid. We need him badly. Lack of experience in our pitching and catching departments will be our greatest problems this season."

The Bulldogs open the season Thursday, March 18, at Tallahassee against Florida State and meet Florida's Gators at Gainesville March 19-20, Auburn at Auburn March 26-27. First home game is against Amherst College March 31.

Candidates by position:

Valdes Beats J. J. Parker

NEW YORK, March 12 (AP)—Nino Valdes, the Cuban heavyweight champion, won his seventh straight victory tonight by outpointing James J. Parker of Paterson, N.J., in a sloppy 10-rounder that brought boos in Madison Square Garden. Valdes weighed 211½, Parker, 210.

There were no knockdowns in this battle between 6-3 heavyweights—nothing even close to one.

Valdes, No. 2 heavyweight contender, won the unanimous decision by a big margin but his victory was far from impressive.

"If not for that, I probably knock him out in the sixth or seventh," he said through interpreters.

Parker complained that Valdes hit him consistently with low blows. He said he thought he won the fight and "certainly I shouldn't have gotten worse than a draw."

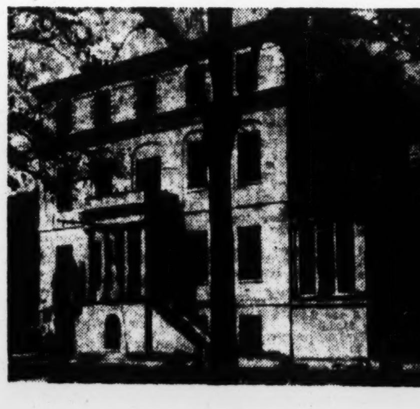
GROWING WITH ATLANTA AND GEORGIA



We Salute
THE GIRL SCOUTS

All lovers of Georgia's historic past will rejoice to know that one of Savannah's fine old residences will be preserved for posterity by the national Girl Scout organization. This is the Gordon Mansion, at the corner of Oglethorpe Avenue and Bull Street, in downtown Savannah. It was the childhood home of Juliette Gordon Low, who, in 1912, founded the American Girl Scout movement.

The Gordon House is considered one of our finest surviving examples of Regency architecture. Designed by William Jay, it was built around 1820. Here "Daisy" Gordon spent her happy childhood years; here, romping in the high-walled garden, she acquired her life-long love for birds, for flowers, for the outdoors.

It is a fitting tribute to Mrs. Low that the great organization which she founded should preserve her early home as a heritage for Girl Scouts yet unborn. Savannah — and all the Girl Scouts — look forward to seeing a Gordon House restored to its early dignity and beauty, housing some of the furniture which Juliette Low used as a young girl, and enshrining mementoes of her life and of Girl Scouting, gathered through the years.

To establish and maintain the Gordon House as a center of both national and international Girl Scout activities, the Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. plan to set up a Juliette Gordon Low Birthplace Fund, to be supported by members and friends of the organization. Certainly, among the two million current members and the more than seven million alumnae of Scouting there will be many who will be proud to join in this lasting tribute to the extraordinary woman who laid the foundations of Scouting, and who established an objective which is unchanged through the years — "helping girls develop as happy, resourceful individuals willing to share their abilities as citizens in their homes, their communities, their country and the world."

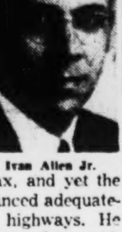
Allen Says State Intake Must Suffice

The State of Georgia will have to learn to live within its present $220,000,000 income or it will drive out industries, Ivan Allen Jr. told the Georgia Democratic Women's Club here Friday.



Ivan Allen Jr.

Allen, who has been mentioned as a possible gubernatorial candidate, declared that the state's income has been more than doubled by the sales tax, and yet the state still hasn't financed adequately its schools and highways. He asked what had been done with the money.

Allen asserted the state is facing a $35,000,000 deficit next year if it attempts to carry on the present program.

"In addition to this, we have a $203,000,000 indebtedness on the various 'authorities' projects, and no provisions have been made to retire these debts," he asserted.

The only way to raise additional money is to increase personal and corporate income taxes, Allen said. The people don't want additional tax burdens, and the flow of industries into Georgia would be reversed if corporate taxes were increased, he said.

Visitors To Address Tabernacle Sessions

The six final sessions of the 1954 Baptist Tabernacle Bible Conference are scheduled Saturday and Sunday.

Dr. Walter L. Wilson of Kansas City, Mo., will speak at 7:30 p.m. Saturday and at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday. The Rev. Vance Havner of Greensboro, N.C., will speak at 8:15 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Dr. Perry Webb, pastor of the First Baptist Church of San Antonio, Tex., will speak at 10:50 a.m. Sunday.

South Fulton Methodists Slate School

A standard training school for members of Methodist churches in the South Fulton County area is scheduled Sunday through Thursday at East Point First Methodist Church.

Sessions will be held at 2:15 p.m. Sunday and at 7:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

The Rev. George O. King, pastor of the East Point church, will be dean of the school. Teachers will be Miss Lida Malone, children's division; the Rev. E. A. Padgett, pastor of Sardis Methodist Church, youth division, and Mrs. M. C. Pittard, director of adult work for the North Georgia Methodist Conference, adult division.

Decatur Trinity Building Rent To Go to Missions

Members of Decatur First Baptist Church have voted to use the rental income from their old church building, Trinity Building in the Decatur business district, to aid and erect mission churches.

The first mission project will be the Baptist Church in Ajloun, Jordan. Dr. Dick H. Hall Jr., the Decatur church pastor, visited the Jordan mission area last year.

Organized last September, the church is located in the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan which now contains the places of Jesus' birth, baptism, crucifixion, burial, resurrection and ascension, according to Dr. Hall. It is the first Southern Baptist Church ever to be constituted in that kingdom.

The Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention has set aside funds to purchase a building site for the church. The Decatur church will give an amount "up to $10,000" toward construction of the meeting house.

Decatur church's mission project is expected ultimately to cover all the fields in which the Southern Baptist Convention has mission work.

Pictures of all the churches aided under the new program will be placed in the Decatur church's Memorial Hall.

Town, Country Pastors' Meet Set

The annual Town and Country Pastors Institute, sponsored by the Presbyterian Board of Church Extension and the Department of Rural Church of Columbia Theological Seminary, will be held Monday through Thursday at the seminary in Decatur.

Some 80 pastors from Georgia, Alabama, Florida, South Carolina, and Mississippi are expected to attend.

Featured speaker for the institute will be Dr. Calvin Schnucker, professor of rural church work at Dubuque Theological Seminary, Dubuque, Iowa, and author of "How To Plan the Rural Church Program."

The Rev. O. V. Caudill, secretary of the extension board's department of architecture, will speak on "Buildings and Equipment" at 11:15 a.m. Tuesday. He will be available for personal conferences with pastors and church building committees throughout the institute.

Others to take part in the institute include Dr. W. H. McCorkle, secretary of the division of evangelism of the extension board; Dr. Cecil Tompson, head of the seminary's rural church department; Dr. P. D. Miller, pastor of Druid Hills Presbyterian Church, and Dr. James M. Carr, Dr. D. B. Walthall, Mrs. Steve Magargee, William Henning and the Rev. Donald Erwin.

Pastors attending the institute will be housed in the homes of members of Presbyterian churches in Atlanta and Decatur. Meals will be served in the seminary dining hall.

Registration will begin at 2:30 p.m. Monday in Dr. Thompson's office in the seminary's administration building.

Enlargement Revival

An enlargement revival, and study course, sponsored by the training union of Kirkwood Baptist Church, is scheduled at 7:15 p.m. Sunday through Friday.

The Rev. C. Aubrey Hearn, who is in charge of all training union courses for the Southern Baptist Convention, will lead the study courses. He also will preach at the church's 11 a.m. service Sunday.

Purpose of the revival is to enroll people in the training union who are members of the Sunday school but have never joined the training unit. Members of all age groups are invited to attend.

Conference Supper

The Rev. Earl Strickland, pastor of East Lake Methodist Church, will speak to officers and teachers in the Haygood Memorial Methodist Church School at a workers' conference supper at 6:30 p.m. Monday. His subject will be "The Teacher as an Evangelist."

Miss Elizabeth Thompson, a deaconess in the Methodist Church who has worked for several years in the rural areas of Louisiana, will speak at Haygood Church's church night supper at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday.

London Lectures

Dr. Norman Gore, rector of the Episcopal Church of the Epiphany, will begin a series of weekly Lenten lectures on the doctrines, history and ritual of the Episcopal Church at 4 p.m. Sunday at the church.

The Rev. Cecil L. Alligood, rector of the Episcopal Church of the Incarnation, will speak at Epiphany Church's 7:30 p.m. Lenten service Wednesday. A church supper at 6 p.m. will precede the service.

Revival in East Point

Elder Fred M. Williams of Columbus will conduct revival services for members of Fellowship Primitive Baptist Church Monday through March 21. Services will be held at Wommack Park Community Center in East Point at 10:45 a.m. and 8 p.m. Monday through Friday and March 21.

Elder W. L. Oxford and H. C. Routon will be ordained deacons at the Monday night service.

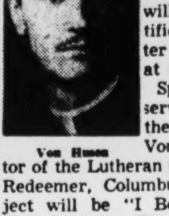
East Point Lutherans To Organize

The organizational meeting for members of Christ Lutheran Church in East Point is scheduled at 11 a.m. Sunday. All members of the church, including newly confirmed adults, will receive certificates of charter membership at the service.



Von Husen

Speaker for the service will be the Rev. F. L. Von Husen, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Columbus. His subject will be "I Believe in the Holy Christian Church."

First services of the church were held last June 14 in the Russell High School auditorium.

Members of the church council are E. H. Moldenhauer, chairman; Elmer Reed, vice chairman; W. C. Davis, secretary; O. T. Walz, treasurer; L. W. Meyer, financial secretary; D. F. Kane and Oscar Seagraves, elders.

Trustees are Meyer, Moldenhauer and H. R. Schedler. A. C. Walker is captain of ushers and Jansen Harms is Sunday School superintendent.

Baptists Choose Jackson, Atlanta

Dr. Arthur Jackson, Atlanta, was elected president of the Southern Baptist Foundation Secretaries Conference at a meeting held recently in Dallas, Texas. Atlanta was chosen as the site for the organization's 1955 meeting.

Function of the organization is to invest $64,000,000 worth of endowments in 22 states for the Southern Baptist Convention. Dr. Jackson reported that half of Georgia's $1,750,000 endowment is invested in government bonds, the rest in common stock, real estate, preferred stock and debentures.

First Baptist Church Gets Registered Nurse

Mrs. Bruce Whitfield will take over her duties as nurse of the First Baptist Church Infant Cradle Roll Department Sunday.

A registered nurse, Mrs. Whitfield attended the Crawford W. Long Memorial Hospital School of Nursing and for more than a year was in charge of the out-patient clinic in Harris Memorial Methodist Hospital, Fort Worth, Texas.

She will be on duty during the 10:55 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday services and the 8 p.m. Wednesday prayer meetings at First Baptist.

Religious Educators Slate Meet

Hermon Wornom of New York City, general secretary of the Religious Education Assn. of the United States and Canada, will speak to the Atlanta REA group at a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Thursday at Glenn Memorial Methodist Church.

His subject will be "How Religious Education in the Local Church Affects the Total Community."

Officers of the Religious Education Assn. of Atlanta are Virginia Proctor, Glenn Memorial Church, president; Donald Moore, Peachtree Christian Church, vice president, and Hazel Wade, Peachtree Road Methodist Church, secretary. The organization has 30 members.

The luncheon Thursday is open to religious education directors, pastors and assistant pastors. Reservations should be made with Miss Proctor.

Radio-TV Application

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—The WDEF Broadcasting Co., licensee of radio and television stations WDEF at Chattanooga, Tenn., applied to the Federal Communications Commission today to transfer control to Moses Lebovitz and 142 others.

Aid Pledged For Turnpike By 5 States

Turnpike officials from Georgia, Florida and Tennessee have joined officials from Ohio and Indiana in an agreement that they would work together for completion of a north-south expressway from the Great Lakes to Miami.

Dixon Oxford of Dawson, chairman of the Georgia Turnpike Authority and member of the State Highway Board, represented Georgia at the Interstate Turnpike Conference in Miami.

He told the group that enabling legislation has been passed in Georgia for a survey but added, "We are waiting for Florida and Tennessee to get their routes laid out before starting work."

O. L. Teagarden and C. B. Enlow, vice chairmen of the Ohio and Indiana toll road commissions, reported that traffic is becoming "so hazardous in the South that it is discouraging people from driving down there." Enlow said a recent five-county survey around Evansville showed that six persons are flying to Florida for every one driving by automobile.

Marvin D. Adams, chairman of the Florida Turnpike Authority, expressed hope for expressways from Maine and the Great Lakes to Florida, converging somewhere near the Georgia-Florida line. W. M. Leech, Tennessee highway commissioner, said route surveys are being made in his state.

Municipal Courts Upheld on Traffic

Municipal courts have jurisdiction to try violations of state traffic laws in the absence of a city or county court, provided the defendant waives jury trial, Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook has ruled.

Cook's unofficial opinion, in reply to a query from State Director of Corrections Robert E. Warren, held that the Mayor's Court of Alma has jurisdiction to impose misdemeanor sentences in two traffic cases wherein the defendants waived trial by jury.

How To Figure Deductions for State Sales Tax

For the benefit of persons filing last minute income tax returns, the State Department of Revenue has repeated the scale of deductions allowed for state sales taxes.

On salaries up to $1,000 a year, 1.8 per cent of total income may be deducted for sales taxes; $1,000 to $2,000—1.7 per cent; $2,000 to $3,000—1.4 per cent; $3,000 to $5,000—1.2 per cent; $5,000 to $10,000—1.1 per cent; $10,000 to $15,000—.9 per cent; $15,000 to $20,000—.7 per cent; $20,000 to $30,000—.6 per cent; $30,000 to $50,000—.5 per cent; over $50,000—.4 per cent.

Federal income tax payments can be deducted from state income tax returns if the federal tax is paid by March 15.

The penalty for not filing with the state by March 15 is a 5 to 25 per cent increase in taxes owed, if the failure to return is due to negligence. If fraud is proven, however, the penalty can go as high as 75 per cent.

More Everglades Park

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—Interior Secretary McKay today signed an order adding 271,000 acres to Everglades National Park in Florida. This brings the acreage of the nation's newest national park—established in 1947—to about 1½ million acres.

Visas Slow Fleeing Girls

BERLIN, March 12 (INS)—The U.S. consulate in Berlin informed young American Peter Grimes today that it would take at least six weeks before he could obtain visas for the two daughters whom he had smuggled out of East Germany.

Grimes airmailed a petition to the U.S. Justice Department requesting special American visas for Monica, 14, and Evelyn, 11.

Grimes, a 32-year-old Harvard University graduate, told newsmen yesterday he and his wife had gone behind the Iron Curtain, spent four months in East Germany and finally persuaded the two girls to leave their grandfather, whom Grimes pictures as an America-hater.

It could be YOU in an hour or two

In this life-and-death drama, three performers shine. But give your special attention to the one in the middle . . .

It stands for you, Mr. and Mrs. Atlanta. That bottle of blood is saving a life only because you donated it. Because you gave money and volunteer work. You are the Red Cross!

Last year you gave more than 57,000 pints of blood to meet civilian and military needs and to supply gamma globulin for fighting polio. Despite the Korean armistice, the need is still great. The accident victim, the mother in childbirth, the surgical patient, national defense—all call for blood and its by-products.

In traffic accidents alone, someone in the U.S. is injured every 23 seconds. While you're reading this, your blood or your dollars may be saving another life. And the next life you save may be your own!

More than blood is needed, of course. In money alone it costs $4.47 to provide a pint of life. Yet every drop the Red Cross supplies is given free.

Your Red Cross dollars help in other ways, too. Through them, you rebuild disaster victims' homes and lives. You help our servicemen and disabled veterans. You bring First Aid and Home Nursing within reach of every family.

So the Red Cross solicitor is a blood-brother in a cause that's close to your heart. Extend the glad hand of welcome—with an ample contribution.

450 Presbyterians Attend Center Dedication Here

By LAURA BARRE

The new $245,000 Presbyterian Center of Atlanta, located at 341 Ponce de Leon Ave., N. E., was dedicated Friday afternoon at an outdoor ceremony attended by 450 Presbyterians from all over the Southeast.

Dr. Vernon S. Broyles Jr., executive secretary of the Board of Church Extension of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., led the service of dedication. The people joined him in asking divine guidance that through the center "the faithful may find salvation and the careless be awakened, the doubting find faith and the anxious be encouraged, and the church be strengthened and enlarged."

Dr. Frank W. Price of Lexington, Va., moderator of the church's general assembly, accepted the center on behalf of the Southern Presbyterian Church. Dr. Price had interrupted a two-weeks visit to two sister Presbyterian communions in the North to make the trip to Atlanta for the dedication.

ATLANTA SUITED

"As a hub of Presbyterianism in Georgia and the Southeast, and as a center of church life, Atlanta is particularly suited to be the site of this church center," he said.

He charged the people always to remember that "God will judge us by the number of poor in body and in spirit we minister to through this center, rather than by anything else we do here. All the work of the church is important, but let us never forget that our primary purpose is to minister to His people in need."

HARTSFIELD WELCOMES

Charles J. Currie, president of Presbyterian Properties, Inc., presided at the ceremony. William B. Hartsfield, mayor of Atlanta, and Dr. Stuart R. Oglesby, pastor of Central Presbyterian Church, extended welcomes on behalf of the city and its Presbyterian churches.

Others who took part in the ceremony were Dr. Wade H. Boggs, executive secretary of the board of annuities and relief; Dr. Janie W. McGaughey, executive secretary of the board of women's work; Dr. James G. Patton, executive secretary of the general council; Dr. Marshall C. Dendy of Richmond, Va., executive secretary of the board of Christian education, and Dr. Lewis H. Lancaster of Nashville, Tenn., a representative of the board of world missions.

Four former moderators of the general assembly attended the dedication. They are Dr. W. A. Alexander of Birmingham, Ala., who served in 1952; Dr. James R. McCain of Decatur, president emeritus of Agnes Scott College, who served in 1951; Dr. J. B. Green of Avondale Estates, who served in 1946 and Dr. Frank C. Brown of Columbia Theological Seminary, Decatur, who served in 1940.

BOOK STORE

The center is headquarters for the following boards and agencies: The office of the general assembly, the general council, the committee on the minister and his work, the Presbyterian Book Store and the boards of church extension, annuities and relief and women's work.

It is located on the former site of the Westminster schools. The property consists of four large buildings and two small ones, including two large residence and two school buildings, all of which have been remodeled; a small storage building and a caretaker's house.

Blast Kills Worker at Plant Here

Hurled through a tin wall by a boiler explosion, a 68-year-old employe of a rubber plant at 1486 Lakewood Ave., SE, was fatally injured early Friday.

Charles Amos White of 1503 Elleby Rd., SE, died soon after being admitted to the Grady Hospital emergency clinic for treatment of shock and head injuries, Patrolmen R. H. Harper and R. H. Hamil said.

The explosion occurred when Mr. White attempted to turn the boiler on, patrolmen said. Officers and firemen said the blast was caused by an accumulation of gas around the outside wall of the boiler.

The blast occurred in a metal building at the rear of the plant. Patrolmen said the force of the explosion hurled Mr. White through the metal wall.

Mr. White joined the Dayton Rubber Co. here a year ago after retiring as a guard at the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary after 12 years' service. He had served with the U.S. Army and was a member of Lakewood Lodge No. 443, F&AM. He was a native of Athens, and had lived in Atlanta since 1925.

Surviving are his wife, the former Rosa Dobbs, a native of Conyers, and three daughters, Misses Helen and Charlene White and Mrs. Edna Smith, all of Atlanta.

REA Praises PSC on Its Tax Ruling

The National Rural Electric Cooperative Assn. has praised the Georgia Public Service Commission's handling of a Georgia Power Co. tax matter, but attacked decisions of regulatory bodies in 20 other states.

Chairman Matt L. McWhorter said he received copies of the group's resolution Friday.

The Federal Government, to speed up defense projects, permitted utilities and industries to write off their new investment over a five-year period instead of taking the normal depreciation of about 3 per cent a year. This would save the Georgia Power Co. about $19,500,000. After the initial five years, no further deductions could be claimed for depreciation, and taxes would rise.

The Georgia commission ruled this was a "tax deferment" rather than "outright tax relief." It ordered the company to credit the interim tax reductions to a reserve fund for paying the later increased taxes. It also ordered the reserve fund invested in the business and deducted from the company's rate base.

Atlanta 'Chutist Injured in Jump

Sgt. Willie Hicks, 34, of Atlanta was hospitalized Friday after he was injured in Thursday's mass parachute jump at Ft. Bragg, N.C. Army announced.

Hicks, the Army said, is expected to be released from the hospital within 48 hours. His injuries were not described in the official casualty list.

Two men were killed and 79 others injured in the 9,000-man jump.

$13 Million Bond Issue Urged by PTA at Grady

By HERMAN HANCOCK

The Henry Grady High School Parent-Teacher Association will urge an early bond issue to provide $13,000,908 for schools at a meeting of the Board of Aldermen Monday. The request probably will be sent to the finance committee for study since administration leaders have been slow to set up a bond issue thus far this year.

Resolutions passed by the school and attested by Jefferson Davis, association president, will be submitted. Copies of the action are on file in the office of City Clerk Joe L. Richardson.

Mayor Hartsfield also is scheduled to inform aldermen he has appointed retired Judge Andy W. Callaway as judge emeritus of the municipal court of Atlanta in compliance with an act of the Georgia Legislature. Hartsfield also has written a letter thanking the aldermen for congratulations extended to the mayor on his 64th birthday March 1.

Asks Plumber License

A showdown within the next two weeks on a demand by City Building Inspector William R. Wofford for a master plumber's license was predicted yesterday. Wofford applied for an examination by the Plumbers' Examining Board and was refused because he had not had five years' experience as a journeyman plumber. Wofford cited his educational background including an architectual degree from Georgia Tech and his registration with the State of Georgia as an architectual engineer and contended he has the equivalent of existing experience requirements. The examining board referred the entire matter to the Plumbing Advisory Board, headed by Michael E. Doyle. Doyle is out of the city, but will return next week.

Mayor Visits Here

Mayor Andrew Broaddus, of Louisville, stopped in Atlanta yesterday en route to West Palm Beach. He called at Mayor Hartsfield's office and sought information concerning the operation of Atlanta incinerator. He was accompanied by Frank M. Tobin, vice president and general manager of International Incinerators, Inc., vendors of equipment similar to that owned by Atlanta.

Traffic Body Studied

Mayor Hartsfield yesterday said he is studying personnel for a 10-man traffic commission authorized by the legislature, but said he has delayed appointments from a desire to get the "best" men possible for the posts. The new commission will succeed an old group with restricted powers. The new body instead of dealing solely with traffic will study such matters as transit, parking, and related subjects.

Clayton Car Wreck's Toll Is Raised to 3

The third victim in a Clayton County auto wreck died Friday at Grady Hospital, police said. Two others were killed in the crash Thursday night on State Highway 54 just 300 yards beyond the South Atlanta city limits.

Jackson Dewey Threlkeld, 30, of 137 West Frances St., College Park, co-operator of Lee's Drive-In on Highway 41, near Hapeville, died of massive head and internal injuries, Clayton County Ptl. M. E. Sellers and W. R. Hendricks said.

Frank Lewis, 24, and Willis Samuel Beale, 23, both of Forest Park, were killed in the crash.

Patrolmen said the auto, traveling north at a high rate of speed, ran off the road, struck an embankment and overturned. They said the machine hurtled back onto the road and overturned a second time, stopping 81 paces from the point where it first left the road.

Sellers and Hendricks said they were unable to determine who was driving when the mishap occurred.

U. of Ga. Rolls Will Double, Says Caldwell

Present enrollment in the University System of Georgia will double within the next 12 years and the 16-unit system will require at least twice as much money as it now receives from the state, Chancellor Harmon Caldwell told the Atlanta Lawyers Club Friday night.

Caldwell appeared on a panel devoted to "Georgia Education" with State Auditor B. E. Thrasher Jr. and John I. Allman, assistant state superintendent of schools.

"Enrollment in the university system now is about 24,000," Caldwell pointed out, "but more and more people of college age in Georgia are entering the system."

Allman said the biggest problem the state's common schools have is getting an adequate supply of properly qualified teachers.

Trio Indicted In $75,000 Gem Holdup

Three men were indicted Friday on robbery charges in connection with the $75,000 daylight stickup of an Atlanta jewelry store six months ago.

Named in the indictment were Don Verner Stinson, Mack Burton Montgomery and Ira Dawson. The trio was arrested in Memphis in connection with an attempted robbery of a jewelry store there.

They were charged with the holdup of the Jefferson Diamond and Loan Assn. at 8 Auburn Ave., NE, last September. Atlanta charges were placed against them after Tracy W. O'Neal Jr., vice president of the store, identified Stinson and Montgomery from photographs in a Memphis newspaper.

School Bond Issue Asked in Fayette

Constitution State News Service

A school bond issue to provide a new high school for Fayette County has been recommended by a grand jury committee appointed to survey school needs.

The proposal came after the $300,000 to $400,000 fire March 4 which destroyed the high school here.

The jury committee recommended that an election to be called "to approve the issuance of school bonds in an amount sufficient to provide the high school students of Fayette County an adequate and complete school plant."

At the meeting, Supt. F. A. Sams explained that the state had granted approval to a plan to combine the proposed new elementary school, a high school addition and insurance money from the destroyed school into a building to serve the upper elementary grades and high school.

Sams said the proposed new plant would include 26 classrooms, an auditorium, lunchroom, homemaking department, vocational department and shop and other modern additions.

It will be of fireproof construction, he explained.

Continuing, he stated that the present elementary building will be used for the first four grades and the new plant for grades five through 12.

A little Japanese boy who hasn't seen his mother for two years because she married an American soldier wil be re-united with her and his stepfather in Atlanta Saturday.

Ryoichi Kamada

Immigration regulations prevented little Ryoichi Kamada from accompanying his mother and her new husband, Sgt. George L. Watts, when Watts was transferred from Tokyo to Augusta two years ago. But all that is cleared up now, thanks to the American and Japanese Red Cross, and the lad, now six years old, is slated to arrive by plane from San Francisco somtime during the day.

He will be accompanied by Sgt. Thomas J. Byrd, who is on his way to visit his wife and two daughters at Fayette, Ala.

Little Ryoichi, known to the Red Cross as "Butch," stayed with his grandmother in Sendai, Japan, while he awaited his visa. His mother and real father were divorced when he was a baby.

2 Are Killed In Georgia Road Crashes

Two persons were killed Friday night in separate automobile wrecks in Georgia, the state patrol said. Both crashes occurred at 6 p.m.

William H. Weatherby, 21, of Anniston, Ala., was killed on Georgia Highway 16 two miles east of Monticello in Jasper County when the car he was driving went out of control and overturned while he was attempting to pass another machine, troopers said.

One other person was injured.

A Negro man was killed and three others injured on Georgia Highway 56 a half mile south of Waynesboro when a speeding car went out of control on a curve and overturned, the patrol said. The dead man was listed as Matthew Benefield, 41, of Rte. 1, Waynesboro, a passenger. Names of the injured were not immediately available.

2 Force Free Ride; Expensive Car Waits

Two well-dressed white men Friday forced a 51-year-old Negro scrap-paper collector to drive them across Atlanta to a point where a third man waited in an expensive sedan, police said.

The paper collector, Albert Cameron, 248 Wheeler Cir., NW, told officers the two approached him on West Paces Ferry road, NW, and said, "Shorty, we want you to take us for a ride."

"I ain't got time to go for a ride," Cameron said he replied.

"You'll take time," the Negro said he was told.

Cameron said the two instructed him to drive out Moore's Mill road to Bolton and back to Bankhead avenue, where they entered a Cadillac sedan waiting at the curb and drove away.

"POSSUM TROT DANCING SCHOOL" TO GIVE A RECITAL AT COLLEGE PARK
Eighth-Graders Gary Stockton, Edward Cloer, Larry Walker and Linda Richardson

TEEN-TYPE

College Park Stages Mystery, 'Ma' Goose

By DOTTY LUNDY

Mellerdrammer, mystery and Mother Goose will be on tap at the College Park Municipal Auditorium Monday night at 8 at the high school's annual stunt night. Van Joyner is faculty coordinator and master of ceremonies.

Eighth graders will trip the light fantastic at a recital of "Possum Trot Dancing School." Chip Turner is instructor and Karen Murphy accompanist.

Jack and Jill are the victims in a sinister nursery rhyme crime presented by ninth graders. Pat Hanes and Steve Hershey will star.

"STYLES FOR SPRING"

Bob Steele and Mary Grace Palmour will take lead roles in the 10th grade "The Fatal Quest," drammer in three acts. The juniors are issuing invitations to the marriage of Miss Jimmie (James) Castleman to Mr. Jack Brewer.

Senior skit will be given in the antiseptic atmosphere of an operating room with Dr. Jerry Livingston taking top role.

Three burly boys from the gridiron will invade feminine ranks of "Styles for Spring" scheduled Tuesday by the Sylvan Hills High FHA. A local department store will furnish fashions with Sylvan students modeling. The place will be the school cafeteria, the time 2:15 p.m.

Laura Jean Fears, Sylvan teen board representative, will narrate and Fredolyn Grimes will sing "Easter Parade." FHA models will be Helen Britt, Emily England and Ann Whiten. Proceeds are marked for a school gift and to send two delegates to state convention.

AVONDALE ELECTION

Managers for Student Council candidates at Avondale ascended the soap box Thursday to present nominees for council officers to the student body. Voting will take place Tuesday.

Candidates for president are Sandra Hanson, Kay McEntire, John Poole and Edward Chapman. Betty June Weede, Jenny Wren and Cline Morrison are running for the second slot. Patsy Yancey, Margie Hill and Roberta Holbrook are contending for secretary. Vicki Hurt, Jimmy Rosser and Jimmy McFarland are in the treasurer's race.

DIRECTS STUNT

Wesleyan College freshmen took the winning trophy at annual Stunt Night due largely to their classmate, Ruby Moody, 515 Oglethorpe Ave., College Park, director. "It's a Wonderful World" will be presented again Saturday for Dormitory Weekend. Ruby is studying at Wesleyan under a piano scholarship.

Miss Berry Is Married

A reception at the West End Woman's Club followed the marriage of Miss Patricia Louise Berry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin H. Berry, to Lt. Elden Q. Faust Jr. of Fort Ord, Calif., which was solemnized at Cascade Methodist Church. Lt. Faust is the son of Col. and Mrs. E. Q. Faust of Philadelphia.

The bride's uncle, the Rev. George O. King of East Point, read the nuptial service.

Mr. Berry gave his daughter in marriage, and Mrs. Henry C. Whelchel Jr. of Cordele was her matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Susanne McCowen and Miss Beverly King.

Lt. Ralph Scholl of Philadelphia was best man for Lt. Faust. Lt. John E. Hogan of Ft. Thomas, Ky., Olin King of East Point, Dr. Ralph Murphy, James Curlee, Brian J. Sturman Jr. and William R. Mitchell Jr. of Atlanta ushered.

"Health Problems of Preschool and Early School Years" will be the subject of a talk by Dr. Larry Bregman, Atlanta pediatrician, for Shearith Israel Sisterhood at 2 p.m. Monday.

The meeting will be held at the Educational Building, 1140 University Dr., NE.

St. Joseph's Auxiliary

A meeting of St. Joseph's Infirmary Auxiliary is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. Monday at Fatima Hall.

Produce Report

TURNIP GREENS lead in the vegetable category followed by snap beans, spinach, and mustard. Quality and price are good.

IRISH POTATOES from Florida are arriving in good supply. Both Irish and sweet potatoes are plentiful and favorably priced.

ORANGES AND GRAPEFRUIT are excellent fruit buys.

WHAT BRINGS crescendos of clapping or crashes of cabbages to the stage opening night of the senior play? Many times the backstage crew makes the difference. Here North Fulton seniors get "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" in shape for presentation March 26 and 27. Assistant director Nancy Hall prompts "Cornelia" (Kay Holloway) while Jimmy Clemmer works lights. The play depicts Cornelia Otis Skinner's and Emily Kimbrough's hilarious adventures on a voyage to Europe during the roaring twenties.

NO STAGE committee is complete without a clean-up crew. Kitty Cousins, who plays the part of "Emily," watches lone stage hand Stuart Gould tidy up after rehearsal. Miss Judy Hubbard is directing the play. Other backstage technicians are Don Read, committee manager; James Purvis, Bill Griffin and John Hall. The play will be given in the school auditorium.

Islanders Open Gardens

ST. SIMONS ISLAND, March 12—Historic sites, both private and public, are listed on the Tour of Gardens Saturday at St. Simons, Sea Island and Frederica, sponsored by the Woman's Auxiliary of Christ Episcopal Church at Frederica.

The tour takes place from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. with lunch being served at the church parish house from noon until 2 p.m.

Mrs. Jack Bryan is auxiliary president and Mrs. Albert Fendig and Mrs. Ira Towson are chairman and co-chairman of the tour. The tour begins at The Cloister.

Private gardens to be open are those at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel C. Pomeroy, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Walker, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Compton, Mr. and Mrs. R. Y. Moffat, Mrs. Sally Todd Devereaux, Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Rue, and Mrs. Nancy Reynolds Bagley.

Other points of interest on the tour include Christ Church and grounds, Fort Frederica National Park, The Cloister and the Sea Island Beach Club.

The tour is the first sponsored by the auxiliary and it is expected to draw hundreds of visitors from the coastal area.

Georgia DAR To Push Bricker Amendment

By JEAN ROONEY

Georgia's fighting Daughters of the American Revolution are on the march again.

This time they mean to see that the Bricker Amendment, currently tabled in the U.S. Senate, does not die a natural death.

Approximately 300 delegates, representing the 6,000-strong state patriotic organization in annual session here Friday, unanimously resolved to commend Sen. Walter F. George's version of the Constitutional amendment that would limit the President's treaty-making powers.

CURB EXECUTIVE

"Sen. George's revision is a compromise," said Mrs. R. H. Humphrey, Swainsboro, incoming state regent. "But it would take care of 75 per cent of the trouble."

She said her group wants legislation to prevent treaty-making and "executive agreements that might supersede the U.S. Constitution."

Commenting further on the DAR international sentiments, Mrs. Humphrey said her organization supported the United Nations in its beginning.

"Now we fear certain UN agencies are threatening the U.S. Constitution. With the UN charter coming up for revision soon, we foresee moves toward world government," the determined, petite official explained.

Asked if her organization is affiliated with the Minute Women, a group openly fighting the United Nations, Mrs. Humphrey replied firmly in the negative.

She said that some DAR members are also Minute Women, but joined of their "individual choice."

In addition to Mrs. Humphrey, other new officers installed Friday at the closing session of the conference were: Mrs. John F. Thigpen, Atlanta, Mrs. Harold I. Tuthill, Savannah, first and second vice regents, respectively.

NEW OFFICERS

Mrs. T. K. Kendrick, Columbus, was made chaplain; Mrs. William C. Robinson, Decatur, recording secretary; Mrs. W. E. Gray, Swainsboro, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Sam Merritt, Americus, treasurer.

Other new top officers are: Mrs. Talbott B. Chandler, Albany, consulting organizing secretary; Mrs. Neil Glass, La Grange, historian; Mrs. Harry Talmadge, Athens, librarian; Mrs. Carter Shepherd, Madison, consulting registrar, and Mrs. Ben I. Thornton, Tallulah Falls, curator.

WHEN THE S.S. ROMA steams out of New York harbor next Friday, a trio of Atlantans aboard will be Mrs. Irving Gresham Jr., her small son, Orme, and Mrs. H. P. Heid Jr., bound for a three-month visit to Europe.

The threesome will land at Naples, Italy, and spend a month in Florence before going on to France where they will visit Mrs. Gresham's mother, Mrs. Jean Bienvenu, and Mr. Bienvenu at their home near Tours.

During their stay in France, Mrs. Gresham will leave her son with her mother while she and Mrs. Heid motor through France and Germany and spend some time in Paris.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES M. CRAWFORD, their daughter, Nancy, and Mrs. Crawford's mother, Mrs. E. L. Wight, leave Sunday for Wellesley, Mass., where they will visit Miss Wight Crawford, a student at Pine Manor.

On Wednesday the foursome will go to New York, where Miss Wight Crawford will join them for the weekend at the Savoy Plaza.

JACK BALDWIN will return Saturday to his home in Houston, Tex., after a brief visit to his mother, Mrs. John S. Baldwin, on Thirteenth street. His small son, Mark, who accompanied him on the plane, will remain for a visit to his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Emmert, on Andrews drive.

MISS LOUISE GRUBER of Drexel Hill, Pa., national chairman of junior memberships for DAR, is the guest of Mrs. Milton F. Hall, regent of Joseph Habersham chapter, DAR, at her Nacoochee drive home for the state DAR conference. Miss Gruber will remain over the weekend as Mrs. Hall's guest.

ARRIVING FRIDAY from the Baylor School at Chattanooga to spend their spring holidays with their parents were Richard Lee, Linton West, Bill Healey, Gwen Jordan and Bellfield Carter. The boys will return to school on March 21.

A Rhyme a Day

"Insurance selling, once a part-time job for men whose major incomes were derived from other sources, has become a specialized profession demanding great study and training."—Article quote, "New Fields Open."

So intimate a thing is death . . . it stands beside us, night and day . . . to tabulate each transient breath . . . that animates this mortal clay . . . you may evade it for a while . . . but it is a persistent friend . . . who meets you on the final mile . . . that stretches to the journey's end.

"A morbid thought"! I hear you say . . . and that's a fact I'll not deny . . . but one is made to feel that way . . . when some "insurance friend" drops by . . . at first he speaks of pleasant things . . . in language gentle and refined . . . but in a little while he brings . . . the topic up that's on his mind.

"Considering the present trend . . . of prices," he will likely say . . . "I do not think you can depend . . . upon your savings to defray . . . your doctor bills, hospital fees . . . they're higher than they were before" . . . and then you fall upon your knees . . . and pray that he will say no more.

I'm fond of my insurance friends . . . they always tell me something new . . . but when the conversation ends . . . they leave me feeling low and blue . . . perhaps because the song they sing . . . is written in a minor key . . . but, maybe, some day one will bring . . . a little cheerful news to me.

Your Stars Today

DAILY GUIDE—There may be many little things which try your patience today. It will seem that some mischief is in the air to make things take an unexpected turn and upset your plans. It will be best to take each thing as it comes up for attention, and handle it the best you can at the moment, not letting the unexpected upset you. You may have to postpone many things until next week, and since next week promises to be one of high pressure, inflationary tendencies and lack of judgment, it might be wise to concentrate now on what you want to accomplish, and plan a line of attack.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, PISCES! If you have experienced a feeling of being stymied recently, you can look forward to obstacles being dissolved this weekend and a smoother time ahead. This is an important year for you so don't sit back and expect to take it easy. There are bound to be unusual opportunities for you to gain in personal expression and to expand your social life. Cotton Drops Irregularly

NEW YORK, March 12 (UP)—Cotton futures closed 30 cents a bale lower to 25 cents higher in moderately active dealings today.

The market started steady on trade and commission house buying, with nearby May moving slightly through a previous resistance point of 34.60 cents a pound. However, increased hedging developed in later trading, along with profit-taking, which caused prices to work irregularly lower.

There were 22 March transferable notices issued at New York and most of them were quickly stopped.

Sales of about 13,000 bales of old crop May futures by one broker contributed to the reactionary trend in most old crop months. This concentrated selling was credited to a Memphis spot interest. Further pressure arose from spot firms which transferred hedge positions from nearby March to old crop May and July deliveries.

In the new crop situation, attention of traders was drawn to reports of new dust storms affecting most of Texas.

Trading in nearby March futures expires Monday, March 15. The March open interest at the start of trading today was 43,200 bales. Certificated cotton stocks moved up 1,906 bales on a new exchange posting today, bringing total stocks to 97,670 bales.

Business Today

Stocks Slip Moderately From Peak

BY RADER WINGET

NEW YORK, March 12 (AP)—The stock market backed down today in a moderate manner from the 24-year high mark reached yesterday.

A promising start today soon turned into irregularity that ended with a gradual decline. At the close prices were right around their lows of the session, between 1 and 2 points at the most.

There was no vigor about the early advance or the subsequent decline. Railroads, which were highly favored yesterday at times, were somewhat more depressed today than other major sections.

CONTRIBUTING FACTORS

No particular immediate cause for the decline existed. There were, however, two rather broad contributing factors.

On Friday it is customary for many short-term traders to liquidate their positions over the weekend as insulation against surprise developments. That is not always the case. But routine selling on Fridays usually can be traced to such a development.

Another is the approaching income tax payment date—March 15. Brokers for some time have been expecting selling to raise cash to meet tax payments. If nothing else, March 15 is a psychological mark on the calendar.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 30 cents at $116.10. It was up exactly that amount yesterday at $116.40.

BROAD MARKET

The average yesterday broke through the 1953-54 top by 10 cents and reached the highest point since June 4, 1930.

The industrial component of the average today was off 40 cents while the railroads fell 60 cents and the utilities remained unchanged.

The market remained rather broad with 1,190 individual issues traded of which 394 advanced and 496 declined, while 75 new highs and nine new lows for 1953-54 were registered.

Dust Storm Lifts Wheat

CHICAGO, March 12 (AP)—Blowing dust in the winter wheat belt sent wheat prices up on the Board of Trade. Wheat's action had a firming influence on the rest of the market.

Wheat opened higher and inched upward until about the start of the last hour. At that point some weekend evening up transactions sent prices down from their best levels. But in the closing minutes a new buying flurry pushed the market up to new peaks for the day.

Soybeans had wider price swings than wheat, but ended below the day's peaks.

Wheat closed 1⅞-2⅞ higher, corn ⅜-¾ higher, oats unchanged to ⅜ higher, rye 1 to 1¾ higher, soybeans 1 to 3¼ higher and lard 10 cents lower to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher.

It was difficult to tell what damage the storm in the winter wheat belt was doing to wheat, but it was pretty certain it wasn't doing the grain any good. It will probably be a few days yet before any accurate picture is possible, grain men said.

Soybeans suffered from a little profit-taking early but there was no repitition of last Friday's heavy liquidation. Nevertheless, soybeans were not able to continue their spectacular advance this week, indicating the long upturn may have come to at least a temporary halt.

Soybean oil was a little easier at 12¾ cents a pound while meal was slightly firmer at $81.50 to $82.00 a ton.

Atlanta Produce

Although receipts were light for many commodities the total volume of fresh fruits and vegetables increased on the Atlanta produce market during Thursday and Friday morning with trading about moderate, according to the office of the AMS. Turnip greens cleaned up early and some Florida vegetables were still in short supply. Cabbage continued to advance in price. Repacked tomatoes were steady to firm as color remained in limited supply.

Georgia turnip greens sold early for 1.00-1.25 and few late sales higher; collards and turnips brought 1.00-1.50 dozen, jobbing mostly 1.25 and some mustard sold low as 75 cents and up to 1.15 bushel. Green onions were steady to firm at 75-90 cents dozen bunches. Florida film bags of radishes in crate of 48 were 3.75-4.00 and baskets of 30s 2.25. Cabbage ranged from $1.25 on poorer stock up to 2.00 and even 2.25 for best green stock as prices advanced at Florida loading points. Sweet potatoes were in fair volume and continued unchanged in price.

Florida oranges ranged 2.75-3.25 according to size, and grapefruit from 2.25 to 3.00 according to size, pack and quality. Temple oranges in half boxes brought 2.75-3.25, depending on size and quality.

Florida butterbeans were too few to quote; fair to best Tendergreen beans were 3.00-4.00. Contenders were 2.50-3.00 and pole beans 5.50 and best to 6.00, with some fair 4.50-4.75 and poorer mostly 3.00-4.00. Eggplant held at 2.50-3.00 bushel and poorer low as 1.50; bell peppers, medium to large, were jobbed 3.50-4.00 and small 1.65 and up. Best yellow crookneck squash moved at 6.00, some large or fair 3.75-4.00; few cucumbers were 9.00-10.00 per bushel. Florida doubledeck crates of cauliflower jobbed at 3.50 per crate; new Triumph potatoes and celery were both steady and unchanged. Few Florida Missionary strawberries were sold for 38 cents per pint.

Pre-Spring Sales Boost Retail Trade

NEW YORK, March 12 (AP)—The approach of spring brought a mild seasonal rise in retail trade in the week ended Wednesday but most stores failed to match the high sales levels of a year ago, Dun & Bradstreet reported today.

However, reduced price promotions continued to bring good response from shoppers, and food stores generally enjoyed higher volume than a year ago.

The total dollar volume of retail trade for the week was estimated by Dun & Bradstreet to be from 3 per cent below to 1 per cent above the level of a year ago. Regional estimates varied from 1953 levels by the following percentages: New England and Northwest, down 3 to up 1; East, unchanged to down 4; South and Southwest, down 1 to up 3; Midwest, down 2 to up 2; and Pacific Coast, unchanged to up 4.

Interest in spring clothing was rekindled by the return of mild weather but sales still did not come up to levels of a year ago when Easter came two weeks earlier.

Consumer demand for food showed little change and remained moderately above a year ago.

Most retailers of household goods were unable to match sales of a year ago. Among more popular items were infra-red broilers, decorating materials and hardware. Demand for television sets was higher than a few weeks ago but below a year ago, while the demand for automobiles rose seasonally.

Textile Market Worst Since '40, Official Reports

GREENSBORO, N.C., March 12 (AP)—The textile industry is facing the most unfavorable market conditions since 1940, Herman Cone, president of Cone Mills Corp., stated today.

The textile official declared in a letter to stockholders that many of the company's plants are operating on a curtailed basis. "While the company's current backlog of unfilled orders has increased within the last month," he said, "this backlog is considerably lower than a year ago."

He declared that present market prices reflect the lowest overall profit margins in more than 10 years, and some of the company's products are below cost on current pricing.

Funeral services for Robert E. McDermott, 67, of 5558 Forest Ct., Chamblee, former machinist at the Washington, D. C., Navy Yard, who died Thursday night in an Atlanta private hospital after a long illness, will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church. The Rev. Father John Emmerth, S. M., will officiate. Burial will be in Crest Lawn Cemetery.

Mr. McDermott moved to Chamblee two weeks ago from Washington, where he was a Naval gun factory machinist for 17 years. He lived here with a daughter, Mrs. J. G. Swift.

He had studied at Georgia Tech and had lived in Atlanta for 38 years prior to moving to Washington. He was a member of the machinists, union and the St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church in Washington.

Also surviving are his wife, the former Katherine Riley, a native of Atlanta; a stepson, Vincent Hill, New York City; two sisters, Mrs. T. C. Thomas, Miami, and Mrs. A. J. Teitz, Atlanta; a grandchild, and several nieces and nephews.

Dr. Henry H. Rogers

Funeral arrangements for Dr. Henry Hamilton Rogers, 31, Nashville, Tenn., formerly of Atlanta, who died Thursday afternoon in Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D.C., after a brief illness, will be announced.

Dr. Rogers lived in Atlanta for 14 years prior to his graduation from the old Boys High School in the early 1940s. He was graduated from Vanderbilt University School of Medicine in 1951, and shortly thereafter interrupted his internship at the Vanderbilt-affiliated hospital to enter the U.S. Air Force Medical Corps as a first lieutenant. He was serving at Donaldson Air Force Base at Greenville, S.C., when he became ill.

He was a native of Enid, Okla., and a member of a social fraternity at Vanderbilt. Survivors include an aunt, Mrs. Charles Rogers of 734 Frederica St., NE.

Also surviving are his wife, the former Virginia Boyd, and his mother, Mrs. J. B. Oglesby, both of Nashville.

Mrs. Charles Johnson

Mrs. Charles R. Johnson, 32, of 925 Lucile Ave., SW, former business machines operator and general clerical employe of two Atlanta firms, died Friday afternoon at the residence after an 18-month illness.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Sunday in the Powder Springs Baptist Church, of which she was a member. The Rev. J. Arnold Patterson will officiate. Place of burial to be announced.

Mrs. Johnson retired in August, 1953, after serving for six months with the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. here. She had four and a half years with Standard Brands, Inc. The former Dorothy Montine Duren, she was born in Douglas County, and had lived in Atlanta for about 13 years.

Surviving are her husband, a salesman for the Materials Handling Equipment Co.; two sons, Tommy and Jimmy Johnson, all of Atlanta; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Duren, Douglasville; a sister, Mrs. C. O. Littleton, Macon, and a brother, Joe B. Duren, Douglasville.

Joseph A. Lang Sr.

Joseph Allen Lang Sr., 62, of 2992 N. Druid Hills Rd., NE, elevator operator, died Friday afternoon in a private hospital after an illness of four months.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Peachtree Baptist Church. The Rev. Carey C. Wood and the Rev. Henry G. Hewett will officiate. Burial will be in Sandy Springs Methodist churchyard.

Mr. Lang had operated an elevator at the Red Rock building for the past four years. He was previously an operator at the 101 Marietta St., NW, bldg. of Palmer, Inc. He came to Atlanta as a child from his native Gwinnett County, and was a veteran of World War I. He was a member of the North Atlanta Baptist Church.

Surviving are his wife, the former Dovie Lord, a native Atlantan; four sons, J. W., James H., Joseph A. Jr. and Arthur Lang; five daughters, Mrs. Jessie Watkins, Mrs. Fred Mashburn and Misses Mary, Louise and Martha Lang, all of Atlanta; a brother, Carl W. Lang, Detroit, Mich.; two sisters, Mrs. J. R. Davis, Milstead; Mrs. Tom Maddox, Hampton, and 13 grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Color TV Set Production Slated at RCA

NEW YORK, March 12 (AP)—First commercial models of Radio Corp. of America's color television sets will go into production in 10 days, Frank M. Folsom, president, announced.

Other manufacturers licensed to use RCA patents and techniques have been invited to a meeting March 26 at Bloomington, Ind., to see the company's color set production line.

First models, open face consoles with a 15-inch tricolor picture tube giving about a 12½-inch color image, have been tentatively priced at $1,000 retail.

AP Corrects Story On Pennsy Report

PHILADELPHIA, March 12 (AP). An Associated Press story yesterday incorrectly described the 1953 net income of the Pennsylvania Railroad as second largest in the PRR's 107-year history, and also stated erroneously that 1953 taxes were the largest the road ever paid, that 1950 was PRR's best earning year on record. Figures given in the story were correct.

CROP MONEY, SAVINGS GONE

Town Pulls at Heart Of Banker Who Fled

CLIO, Ala., March 13 (AP)—The people of Clio voted tonight to try to reach the ear and touch the heart of a man and his wife who disappeared last Sunday with savings and crop money belonging to depositors of the Clio Merchants Exchange.

Warrants charging embezzlement had previously been issued for the arrest of Royal Reynolds, 40, who operated the exchange. He was not bonded. His institution was not a chartered bank.

Reynolds took with him an unknown amount of cash and all the records of his business.

$81,800 IN ATLANTA

Mayor Dan Easterling, who presided over a mass meeting attended by about one-third of this city's 900 residents, said that the bank's depository, the First National Bank of Atlanta, still held about $81,800 on account.

Mayor Easterling said, however, that none of this money could be made available to depositors unless the official records could be found and the balance of each depositor established.

LED BY PASTORS

After considerable debate, the 88 depositors present with others representing almost the entire community voted unanimously to appeal through press and radio to Reynolds to return the records and promised that with this done no criminal proceedings would be started by them against the missing man.

They were led in the passage of the resolution by the Rev. A. R. Cates and the Rev. William Griggs.

Easterling said that with the records in hand the depositors could probably quickly obtain a percentage of their savings from the amount still on hand in Atlanta.

The mayor said tha the flight of Reynolds is "the most awful thing that ever happened to Clio." He said one widow has been left with 15 cents; another woman with only $15; one partially blind man has lost his life savings of $2,700. Another man has lost the $400 he had worked for and saved in 18 years.

"Some of you I know," Easterling told the crowd, "have mortgaged everything you have to get your crops for this year, and now that your money has gone you can't get more for you have no collateral left."

Crop Glut Barter At $34 Million

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP) — The Agriculture Department reported today that since last July 1 it has bartered 34 million dollars' worth of surplus farm products for materials from other countries.

The materials are used in foreign aid programs and for national stockpiling.

Fertilizer was the largest item received in exchange for the farm products, chiefly grains. The fertilizer was sent to Korea.

YOU'VE JUST SIGNED YOUR NAME TO A PAPER INVOLVING YOU IN A CONSPIRACY—YOU KNOW?
YES, FOR TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS, DON'T FORGET.
YOU'RE IN THE SAME BOAT WITH US NOW.
LISTEN, DEWDROP, DON'T PUSH ME AROUND TOO MUCH. REMEMBER I OWN THE BABY!
YES, AND THIS ACTUALLY IS A TEN-MILLION DOLLAR KID, ISN'T IT?
YOU SAID IT!
SHALL WE ALL LEAVE FOR OUR NEW HOME NOW?
YES, LET'S GO

CANYON, LOKO NEVER DISAPPEARED BEFORE! —BUT FIVE MORE MINUTES AND WE GO WITHOUT HIM...
HERSELF MUST HAVE A SPECIFIED TIME TO PICK UP THE HEROIN IN RED CHINA, OR SHE WOULDN'T MOVE WITHOUT HER WALKING MUSCLE!
GIVE US PLENTY OF FLYING TIME! EVEN THOUGH WE'LL GO EMPTY, WE MIGHT HIT SOME BAD WEATHER...
THAT MEANS WE DETOUR INTO RED CHINA FOR SURE! HOLD YOUR HATS, BOYS!
MILTON CANIFF
CANYON, I'M GOING TO MAKE A STOP THAT ISN'T ON OUR FLIGHT PLAN... BUT DON'T BOTHER REPORTING IT BACK BY RADIO... WE'LL BE OUT OF THEIR CONTROL!
OKAY BY ME, BOSS-DOLL... I JUST DRIVE THE TRUCK!

THE GHOST WHO WALKS!
—THE MEN OF PRINCE RAGON ASK QUESTIONS—
WHAT HAVE YOU HEARD ABOUT THE PHANTOM?
TRADING POST
WELL, LEMME SEE—
WHAT HAVE YOUR PARENTS TOLD YOU OF THE PHANTOM?
MANY THINGS.
I SAW HIM ONCE.
YOU DID NOT.
THUS FAR WE'VE LEARNED NOTHING—WE CAN USE ABOUT HIM.
THERE MUST BE ONE THING—HE PRIZES ABOVE ALL ELSE. FIND IT!
